NOBILE RELIEF SHIP ARRIVES IN NORWAY

LONDON, July 26.—With its flag at half mast, the supply ship Citra Di Milano with Gen. Umberto Nobile and the survivors of the Italia disaster on board, arrived at Narvik, Norway, today said a Central News dispatch from that city.

The arrival, added the dispatch, was watched with sullen interest by the harbor workers who refused to handle the ropes thrown from the ship to the docks.

As soon as the steamer had been moored an Italian soldier with rifle and fixed bayonet was stationed on the middle gangway.

It was announced that Gen. Nobile and his companions would not go ashore until darkness when they will go direct to the special train provided for them.

A representative from the Italian legation at Stockholm went to Narvik to greet the Nobile survivors and help them hasten their homeward journey. They are expected to begin their train journey tonight or early tomorrow morning.

Resentment of the Norwegian people over the expedition and the subsequent loss of Capt. Roald Amundsen led to precautionary measures to prevent any untoward incident.

CANDIDATE IS ONLY PUBLICITY SEEKER SAYS HIGHWAY HEAD

Denies Charges That Boyd's Posters Were Torn Down

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—"He's just looking for publicity," Director Harry J. Kirk, of the state highway department said today when told that Clinton D. Boyd, of Middletown, and Republican candidate for attorney general, charged that the Democratic highway department is discriminating against him and other Republican candidates in the matter of tearing down campaign signs posted along the main highways, and on private property outside the highway limits.

"I've never heard of Mr. Boyd. He must be looking for notoriety because if he acted in good faith he would have notified the state highway department. I have received no such communication from the man as yet," Kirk declared.

Boyd charged that many of his campaign posters erected on private grounds immediately adjacent to the highways were torn down by persons said to have represented the state highway department. In some instances, Boyd said, they tore down Republican campaign signs and left those of Democratic candidates standing.

Boyd's charge resulted from the order of the state highway department recently in ordering that all advertisement and political signs within the limits of the state highways should be torn down.

Kirk said he wished Boyd would be more specific in his charges and mention some details so that if the charges were true which he doubts, he could give the matter his immediate attention.

UNMASKED MEN ROB CINCINNATI BANK

CINCINNATI, O., July 26.—Two bandits, possessed of a perverse streak of humor, were the object of a state-wide police search today. Unmasked and unperturbed, the two men strolled casually into the Westwood Bank and Savings Co. here yesterday, hung a "CLOSED" sign on the door and robbed Walter A. Schneider, teller, of $22,000, making their getaway in a waiting automobile. Police are endeavoring to trace the men by their descriptions obtained from Schneider.

JACK PICKFORD TO FLY HIS OWN PLANE

NEW YORK, July 26.—Jack Pickford, moving picture actor, who arrived in New York a few days ago from California by plane, says he intends to pilot his own plane across the continent on his homeward trip in about six months. Pickford said he owned an airplane back in 1919 but had done no flying since that time. He claims to have a private pilot's license and to have had about four hours' solo flying.

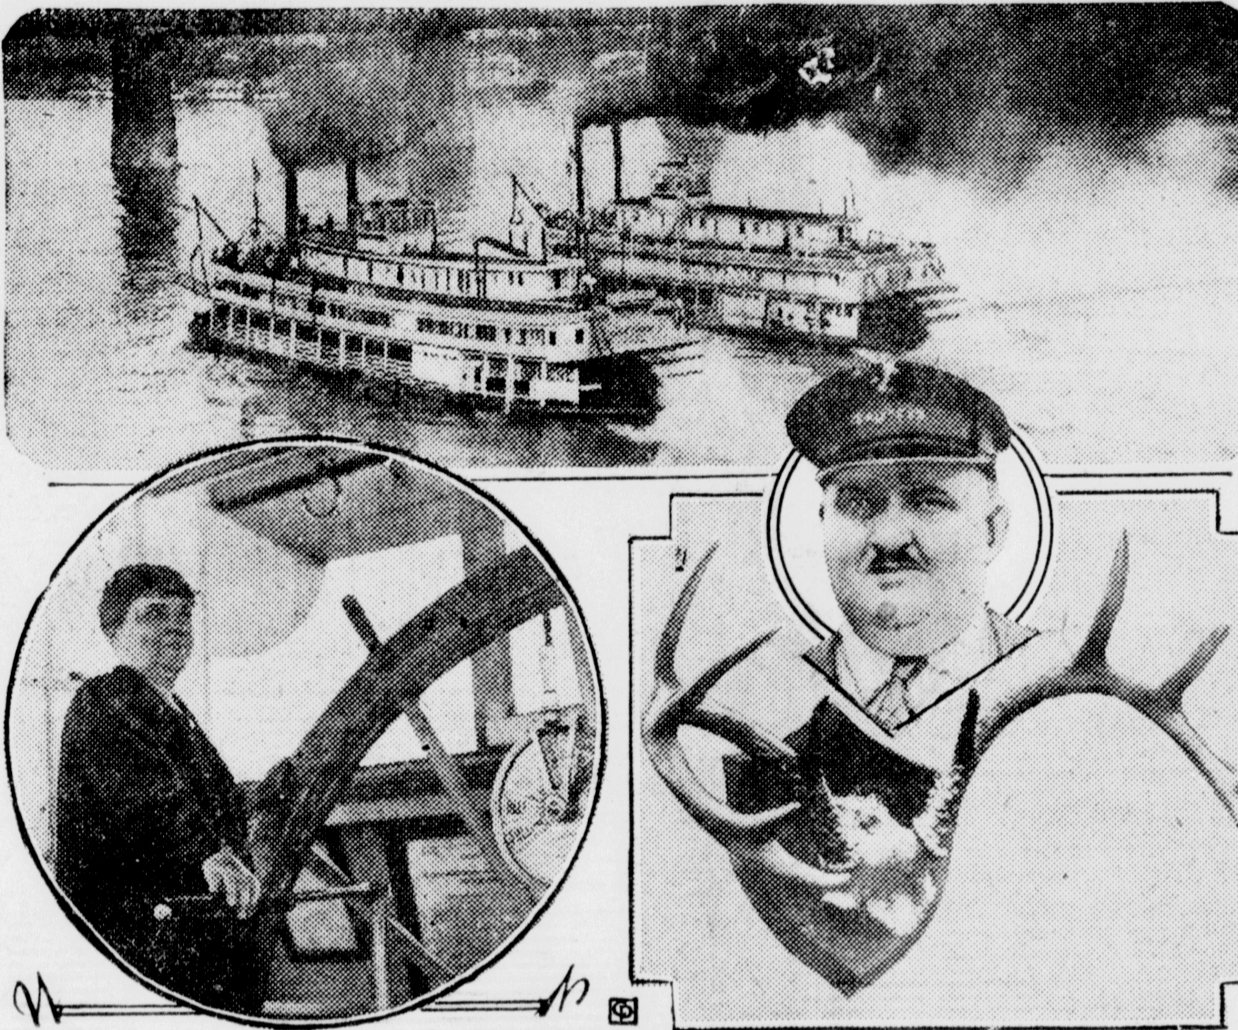

The screen star said he came East primarily to get a job on the legitimate stage, and incidentally to buy a new plane. He said there was no truth in the report that he was to re-marry Marilyn Miller.

WEATHER FAVORABLE
NEW YORK, July 26.—The Gene Tunney-Tom Heeneey heavyweight championship fight at Yankee stadium tonight will have an ideal setting, as far as the weather is concerned.

The day dawned fair and cool, and fair and slightly cooler weather was promised by the weather bureau for tonight.

POLICE BLAME ACT OF VENGEANCE FOR MURDER OF ALLEGED BOOTLEGGER BY DAYLIGHT GUNMEN

OWNER OF BOARDING HOUSE MURDERS MAN RESULT OF QUARREL

Hoes' Garden While Awaiting Arrival Of Policemen

ZANESVILLE, O., July 26.—Clarence Barton, 60, proprietor of a local boarding house, was lodged in Muskingum County jail here today, awaiting arraignment, before common pleas court Judge C. A. Ribble where it is expected a charge of first degree murder will be preferred against him as the outgrowth of the slaying of George Briggs, 45, late yesterday afternoon.

According to the version of the slaying given authorities by the wife of the slain man, Barton had apparently been drinking during the day and had made insulting remarks to her whereupon Mrs. Briggs drove to the Ohio Power Company plant at Philo where Briggs was employed as construction foreman and returned with him to the Barton boarding house where both resided.

A quarrel ensued between the two men which was witnessed by the wives of both men, police say. The fight resulted in Barton grabbing a gun and shot Briggs four times, inflicting fatal wounds, and then turned the gun on his own wife when she attempted to disarm him, firing one shot at her which went wild.

After the slaying, authorities stated, Barton went compositely about his household chores, police effecting his capture as he was hoeing his garden.

RAINS LAST WEEK AIDED OHIO CROPS

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—Showers of last week rendered weather conditions "highly favorable" to plant growth and "mostly favorable" to field work, according to a bulletin issued here today by government weather bureau. Good progress was generally made by Ohio farmers except that cultivation, haying and the harvesting of grain were interrupted or handicapped over limited areas by heavy rains according to the bulletin, which pointed out that the week's showers were mostly moderate, though locally heavy.

The bulletin reported some local flooding of lowlands, especially along smaller streams, causing some damage to crops and considerable "lodging" in the grain fields due to heavy rains and winds, making harvesting difficult. Corn made excellent progress generally and is coming into tassel in many sections; oats are good and ripening fast with cutting already commenced in central sections, and all other crops including fruits, gardens and meadows have done well, the bulletin stated with the exception of a complaint of worms having entered into the tobacco crop.

QUIZZED AGAIN

NEW YORK, July 26.—Maxwell Bodenheim, poet and novelist, who had been leading reporters a merry chase since his disappearance following the recent suicide of Miss Virginia Drew, his protegee, was released after being found by detectives in a Harlem dance hall early today. Although no charge has been made against him, he was taken to a police station "on general principles" and questioned.

GAZETTE READY TO STAGE TUNNEY-HEENEY RADIO PARTY

THE GAZETTE'S radio party banner was flung to the breeze on the front of the Gazette Bldg., Thursday morning.

That's this newspaper's invitation to all and sundry to find good listening spots in front of the building Thursday night to hear the radio broadcast of a new "battle of the century." Down in New York City Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world, will defend his title against the new

Autoist Assassinated By Bandits In Another Auto Along Main Street Of Ohio Village; Companion Escapes

HAMILTON, O., July 26.—Vengeance for the death of Jack Parker, alleged gunman and liquor runner, whose bullet-riddled body was found on the roadside five miles south of Lebanon today was ascribed by authorities to day as the motive which actuated the slayers of Joseph Johnson, 38, also known as Morris K. Johnson, who died at Mercy Hospital here last night, with a bullet in his brain following a murderous attack on the main street of Pisgah, O., yesterday afternoon.

Johnson and a companion, said to be Ernest "Buck" Brady, 40, of Covington, Ky., was driving through Pisgah yesterday when a car bearing three unidentified men drew up alongside, with guns spitting venomously. Johnson slumped over the wheel, fatally wounded, while Brady saved his life by jumping from Johnson's car as the two machine collided. The slayers then turned their guns on the fleeing man, but Brady, when he dashed into a roadside country store.

The assassins then worked their way clear of Johnson's stalled machine, and sped north, hurling defiance at the crumpled figure of Johnson with "Now, you're not dealing with Jack Parker!"

Clues to the identity of the assassins were meagre, the license number of the death car being the only basis the detectives had to work on, and the license plates were believed to have been stolen when the investigation disclosed that they had been issued to Herbert McDermott, of St. Mary's, O., for a different type of car.

Johnson was engaged in rum-running activities, according to police, who voiced their belief that his murder was the outgrowth of the "bootleggers' war" that has raged in this vicinity for several months.

HOOVER EXPECTS TO ANNOUNCE FOREIGN POLICY IN SPEECHES

To Answer Charges Of Enemies About Internationalism

PALO ALTO, Calif., July 26.—Herbert Hoover will announce a foreign policy during the coming campaign so definitely pro-American as to stamp him a Rooseveltian American, with only the interests of his country at heart, it was learned today on the excellent authority.

Accused of being an internationalist, an anglophile and an American who knows his country only from car windows, Hoover will declare himself forcibly for a foreign policy, supporting and protecting American sovereignty in international affairs. The Republican nominee, it was said, will rid himself conclusively of the Wilsonian "tag" attached to him because of his association with the war time president as food administrator.

Hoover will announce a broad foreign policy in his speech of acceptance here August 11. During the campaign, he will take occasion to amplify his statements, so that his position will be clear to all the voters by election time.

HAIL YOUTH AS SWIMMING HERO

GENEVA, O., July 26.—Arnold Carlton, 13, was being hailed as a hero today, following his swimming exploit of Wednesday when he kept Mrs. Edna Carlton, his sister-in-law, afloat in Grand River near here, until a canoe came to their rescue.

Mrs. Carlton had ventured beyond her depth and several persons went to her aid but became exhausted and returned to shore. Arnold managed to remain near her and by repeatedly diving, kept Mrs. Carlton afloat by pushing her body up after she became unconscious.

After a canoe was shoved to their aid, Arnold managed to "hook" the woman's arms over the craft and they were towed ashore.

TWO HUGE AERIAL LINERS ARE BEING BUILT; ONE SEATS 100

DAYTON, O., July 26.—Two mammoth aerial liners, a 100 passenger airplane and a forty passenger plane, are being built by Alfred W. Lawson at the airplane construction plant at Trenton, N. J., it was disclosed at Wright Field here today.

Lawson has been here all week conferring with Wright Field engineers over certain details of the planes.

The 100 passenger ship will be the largest and safest plane in the world, Lawson said. It will be propelled by twelve Liberty engines having 4,800 horsepower combined. Five of those engines could die in flight and still the ship would soar on, declared Lawson.

"The smaller plane," Lawson continued, "will be equipped with five Liberties. Two of them could be cut out without danger he says. Both ships will include all the comforts of the home and will be real aerial liners. The big one is two-thirds finished now. It represents about four years effort and will be completed within twelve months. The other will be ready to go into the air in six months."

PLANE FORCED DOWN

ROCKFORD, Ill., July 26.—The monoplane "Greater Rockford," in which Bert Hassell and Parker Cram took off early today for Sweden, was forced down by bumpy air two miles north of here. The plane was slightly damaged in landing and it will take several days to repair it.

SALE DATES RESERVED

FIFTEEN POWERS TO AFFIX SIGNATURES BEFORE SEPTEMBER

Other Nations May Also Agree To Treaty
Soon.

PARIS, July 26.—The American treaty to maintain world peace by outlawing war will be signed here by the powers on August 27, the foreign office announced this afternoon.

Fifteen countries, possibly more, will have signed the treaty before the League of Nations assembly meeting opens in Geneva in September, according to belief in official circles today.

While dispatches from Washington indicated that the treaty may be opposed when it is brought before the United States senate for ratification, French Foreign Office officials believe that it will eventually be approved. This belief is based upon the assumption that the American senate would hardly dare to upset the plans of the state department after America has assumed world leadership in behalf of the anti-war pact.

The fifteen nations which, it is believed, will have become signatories to the pact before the league meeting are: United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium, Germany, Poland, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Irish Free State, Canada, South Africa, New Zealand and Australia.

Spain will return to the league in September and there are indications that Spain will sign the treaty before the end of the year.

Soviet Russia, Turkey and Mexico are not members of the league, but advices from Moscow indicate that the soviet government might accept the treaty.

When Poland signs, the anti-war treaty may be invoked to prevent the threatened hostilities between that country and Lithuania over frontier territory.

The treaty, its effect and the new position it gives to the United States in international affairs will be discussed from every angle when the League of Assembly meets. There is much interest to ascertain what effect it will have upon the league's long-drawn out discussion of disarmament. It is generally felt that the next logical step after all the powers have accepted the treaty is to disarm as an evidence of good faith.

Hero's Reward

Pretty Ann Bruce posed for his charming photograph a few minutes after the ceremony which united her to Lou Gordon, co-pilot and mechanic on the Amelia Earhart flight from Trepassy, N. F., to Southampton, Wilmer Stutz, chief pilot, "stood up" with his brother flier.

REPUBLICAN STUMP CAMPAIGN WILL BE CONDUCTED BY FOUR

Curtis, Dawes, Hughes
And Borah Will Lead
Speakers.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Senator Charles Curtis, the Republican vice-presidential candidate; Vice-president Charles G. Dawes, Ex-Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes and Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, will constitute the "Big Four" of the Republican stump speaking campaign, it was learned here today.

While Herbert Hoover, bearer of the presidential standard, is making occasional contacts with 30,000,000 voters by radio and keeping his finger on the complex Republican campaign organization, the "Big Four" will be carrying the fight into every section of the country.

Because of the widely varied appeal which must be made to reach voters in the various sections, special tasks are to be assigned to the quartet when they take the stump about September 1.

Both Curtis and Dawes will range far and wide in the east and west. Hughes is to be assigned the task of sounding Republican doctrine in the hotly contested eastern states and Borah will invade the arid country in the west, coupling with his pleas for the dry law an explanation of the McNary-Haugen bill which is calculated to keep many Republican farmers in the party. It was explained by a campaign strategist here.

It is now apparently definitely settled that Hoover will attempt to do little or no speaking from train platforms and will follow the precedent of the Harding front porch campaign. This decision is said to result not only from a belief that the nominee is not effective on the stump but an earnest conviction that a national campaign should be conducted along lines befitting the dignity of the office he seeks.

Borah let it be known before he hid himself to the more pleasant summer climate of Idaho that he was willing to accept a challenge on prohibition. With the issue being forced upon the Republicans and Hoover reported to be ready to take a definite stand for the continuation of the "experiment," the Idaho senator is to be given the opportunity to go before the voters.

TWO BIG BOMBS ROCK CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 26.—Two dynamite bombs rocked sections of Chicago today.

One of the bombs was placed in a photographic establishment and blew off the entire roof of the building, windows in adjoining buildings were shattered for blocks.

Another bomb was thrown in doorway of a barber shop. The interior of the building was wrecked.

Police said "blackhanders" or "labor bombers" threw the bombs.

PUBLISHERS TO MEET

LONDON, O., July 26.—A large representation of Ohio newspaper publishers is expected to attend the midsummer meeting of the Buckeye Press Association following the announcement here yesterday by R. B. Howard, London publisher, that an extensive program is being arranged and that Russell's Point, Indian Lake, has been selected as the meeting place.

NEW YORK GREETING BOUT CALMLY; MANY SEATS TO BE EMPTY

Cool Weather And Damp-sey, Presence May Boost Crowd

By DAVIS J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor
NEW YORK, July 26.—Just as they did the first and last time some struggling soul committed this monumental bromide, all roads will lead tonight to the Yankee Stadium where Gene Tunney and Tom Heeneey are to engage in earnest combat of fifteen rounds for the heavyweight championship of the world. The roads will lead, indeed, but the pedestrian, the equestrian and the cyclist have indicated that they will suit themselves about following. New York was calm, sane and a model of polite interest this morning as it awaited the coming of this event, which seems to have lost some of its strident significance.

Even the fact that Tunney, the champion, meant to take his life in his hands by flying to the scene from his training camp failed to arouse the populace to the point where it stormed the city for tickets of admission. There probably were 40,000 seats unsold this morning and indications were that if the crowd reached 50,000 and the total gate more than a million, Tex Rickard would be doing as well as any man could expect.

However, fair and cooler was the weather forecast for the evening and this was no more favorable to the success of the occasion than was the possibility that the irresistible Dempsey might yet be induced to enter the challenger's corner as a second. These alone remained as last minute stimulants of a sale that only in recent days has savored of championship volume and Rickard was prepared to make the most of them.

A millionaire now in white flannels and yachting cap, he once dealt Faro Bank along the Yukon and so he wore the gambler's mask of inscrutability this morning as he sat alone and faced the prospect of a financial impasse for the first time since, twenty years ago at Reno, he launched into the business of heavyweight

HICKMAN APPEAL IS BEFORE HIGH COURT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 26.—The state supreme court today was reviewing an 87-page brief filed by William Edward Hickman's attorney. The petition for a rehearing of Hickman's case sets forth ten points of law on which error is claimed.

Hickman's counsel claim the supreme court's decision upholding his conviction extends the scope of legislative power beyond the boundaries created by state and federal constitution.

The court will render a decision on the petition within ten days. If the rehearing is not granted, Hickman's attorneys indicated they were prepared to take the case to the United States supreme court.

Hickman, convicted kidnapper-slayer of Marion Parker, Los Angeles school girl, is now occupying a cell in "death row" in San Quentin prison.

OHIO WHEAT BRINGS $1.31 3-4 A BUSHEL

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—New red wheat coming to elevators here today brought a price of $1.31 3/4 per bushel for the No. 2 grade. One cent more was added to the price for No. 1 and two cents deducted for No. 3.

The wheat in central Ohio is said to contain a large per cent of moisture and many farmers are losing on their grain crop as their wheat will not register as a No. 2 grade.

According to reports from nearby towns a drying charge of ten cents per bushel is being charged to make the wheat acceptable to the elevators.

Farmers claim much of their wheat is weedy and will not dry properly.

WILL FORM COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Dr. W. A. Galloway Reveals Advantage Of Being Informed On History—Traces John Alexander, Famed Son.

DR. GALLOWAY

The historical exhibit of the Greene County, Home-Coming, to be housed in the beautiful first floor rooms of the Masonic Temple, promises to be complete in appointments and unusually attractive in early Greene County historical displays, according to Dr. W. A. Galloway, Xenia historian, in charge of the show.

During the four days' meeting, citizens of Greene County will have opportunity to join a Greene County Historical Society. There will be no expense, other than enough to meet small incidentals, it is contemplated.

The organization will become an auxiliary chapter, without expense also, of the Ohio Archaeological and Historical Society, one of Ohio's finest and best maintained institutions, with priceless collections. The society is located on the Ohio State University campus in a building of great size and dignity of architecture.

"There is a wealth of fine personal and general Greene County history which is in danger of being lost, unless collected by organized effort, such as through the suggested local organization," Dr. Galloway declares. "A recent instance," he points out, "one of many, well illustrates the point.

"The Congressional Record" lately wrote to Dr. J. H. Galbreath, editor of "The Ohio Archaeological and Historical Publications" and noted librarian of Columbus, O., for the personal history of John Alexander, congressman 1812-1816, whose residence was Xenia, O.

"The Record" had been unable to obtain any data on this man's life and career. Consequently, to that extent its record was incomplete. The inquiry was passed to me, as I was interested in Greene County history. From the fact that Mr. Alexander was known to have been a large man physically and this characteristic of the last generation of Spring Valley Alexanders, Mont Miers was able to locate John Alexander as a distinguished member of this Spring Valley family.

"In 'The Xenia Torchlight,' July 6, 1848, the following obituary of John Alexander was found, written by the trenchant pen of Judge Thomas Coke Wright, attorney, with portraits added of the legal grants of Alexander's time in active practice in this section:

OBITUARY

Died, on the 28th ult., at his residence, the Hon. John Alexander, of paralysis, with which he had long been afflicted. The deceased was born on Thursday, April 15th, 1777, in Spartansburg district, North Carolina. He studied law under Samuel Farrow, Esq. In the fall of 1803 he came to Ohio, and settled in Butler County, near Miamisburg, where he continued to reside until 1805, when he came to Xenia, in which the first house had been built in April, the year previous. He first occupied a log cabin, in a short distance south of Xenia, owned by Remembrance Williams, until he built a house on his premises in Xenia, where he continued to reside until his death. He was appointed prosecuting attorney in 1808, and held that office until 1833, except the time he was in congress. In 1812 he was elected to congress, and served two terms. In 1822 he was elected to a seat in the Ohio senate, and served one term—he has also represented Greene County twice in the lower house—Ohio legislature.

For nearly thirty years he was an industrious and successful practitioner of law—attending court in all the adjoining counties, and doing an immense business, at a time when the bar in this part of the state were far noted for profound legal learning, ingenuity, tact and eloquence. Such men as Judges Collett and Crain; the talented Bacon; the profound and immensely learned Benjamin Collett, whose massive intellect seemed a perfect encyclopedia of law; the keen-witted, ardent and zealous advocate, Tom Ross, almost unrivaled in desperate cases and untold emergencies; the dignified Sampson Mason, with his powerful argumentative and persuasive eloquence, and Francis Dunlavy, who was judge of the first court ever held in the county, etc. It was in competition with such practitioners he had to contend, and such was his success that he realized a handsome fortune entirely by his practice, while yet in the prime of life—not being in the habit of trading or speculating in any manner whatever. As a special pleader he was unrivaled. During a service of nearly twenty-five years as prosecuting attorney, he scarcely ever drew a single indictment which did not stand the test of the most searching scrutiny. All his declarations, bills, pleas, etc., were unassailable by demurrers. He retired from practice in 1834, at the age of 57, when his intellect was at full maturity and vigor. He was a man of gigantic size, and originally possessed a powerful organization and good constitution. Xenia, July 4th, 1848.

Dr. Galbreath writes: "We find by reference to 'The Western Spy' published in Cincinnati in 1816 that John Alexander was a candidate for re-election to congress but was defeated."

"Such details are not now possible to obtain, except by research work and those now even partially possible for record should be permanently preserved," Dr. Galloway says.

Skin Eruptions

successfully treated from within

SKILLED physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system.

This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful skin annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself and friends to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build rich, red blood—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

In building rich, red blood cells, S.S.S. improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight. I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy."—Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

SPRING VALLEY H. S. CLASS HOLDS REUNION

Their first reunion since graduation, was held by members of the class of 1892 of the Spring Valley High School Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. A. C. Mendenhall near Spring Valley. The occasion was the birthday of Mrs. Flora Kincaid of Dayton, who was visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Flora Mason in Spring Valley, and the affair was arranged as a surprise in her honor.

Mrs. Kincaid was taken for an automobile ride by Mr. and Mrs. Arch Copey, the ride ending at the Mendenhall home where Mrs. Kincaid found her former classmates gathered. A birthday cake decorated and lighted with candles also greeted her.

Six members of the class of ten were present for the reunion, those present besides Mrs. Kincaid being: Mrs. May Crites Scarff, Mrs. Kate Holland Copey, Mrs. Stella Luce Evans of Dayton; Mrs. Luella Annabae Mendenhall and Mr. Arch Copey, who was the only boy in the class. Two members of the class, Mrs. Mellie Middleton Bailey of Lebanon and Mrs. Mary McKnight Cosler of Columbus were unable to be present. Two members of the class are dead: Miss Adia Thomas and Miss Nellie Holland.

RELATIVES GATHER FOR WEDDING ANNIVERSARY
Mr. and Mrs. J. Ralph Perkins celebrated their wedding anniversary Sunday by entertaining several relatives at their home on Cincinnati Ave. They enjoyed a delightful dinner.

Those present from Xenia were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howell and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Y. Phillips and son, James; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Early and children, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Early and daughter, Joann, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ireton, Federal Pike; Mr. and Mrs. John Early and daughter, also of Federal Pike and Mr. and Mrs. J. Ralph Perkins, Cincinnati Ave.

Those from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bangham, Mr. Jess Scroggy, and Mrs. Dewey Early and children, all of Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Arnold, Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Perry, Howell, Cedarville and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brill and son, Dayton.

Many pretty and useful presents were received by Mr. and Mrs. Perkins. Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Howell, son and daughter, Frank and Lula Cross, were afternoon guests.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kyle (Gwen Saunders) arrived home Wednesday evening from their honeymoon trip, to Miami, Fla., where they attended the Elks' Convention, returning by way of Washington, D. C., and Eastern cities. They were gone a month.

Trinity Choir will meet for rehearsal Saturday evening, promptly at 7:30. All members are expected to attend this rehearsal.

It Lifts Your Spirit

By Edna Wallace Hopper
The vigor of a March wind carries you along with a light heart. Spring is approaching and the world seems gay and hopeful. It's great for your spirit, hard on your skin. Every gust of wind ruthlessly plants tiny particles of dust in your pores, takes the naturally smooth texture. Your most precious skin is exposed to these harsh effects.

But you can erase the inroads upon beauty with a little care and the right help, which I spent years to find. I call this help my Facial Youth. It is a liquid cleanser which soothes the skin and actually removes the dust and grime which are so destructive. Soap and water merely cleanse the surface, and have a coarsening effect. Facial Youth does not grow hair. It has a clean, fresh odor. It's a pleasure to use this gently soothing cleanser. I know of nothing which does more to retain youthful firm smoothness of face.

May I urge you, for beauty's sake, to buy a bottle of Facial Youth? The price is 75 cents. Your money back if you are not satisfied.

TUNNEY HOPS OFF FOR FIGHT SCENE

SPECULATOR N. Y., July 26.—Gene Tunney, erudite heavyweight champion of the world, hopped off at 10:12 this morning for New York, where tonight he will meet Tom Heeney, "the man from down under," in defense of his title.

Bill Winston, Curtiss Field pilot, is at the controls and Louis Burdell, Sikorsky plant mechanic, was also aboard.

Every man, woman and child in Speculator gathered at the edge of the lake to wish Tunney success as he entered the plane.

The champion who, arose at 7 o'clock, his usual hour, assured his well-wishers that he was in the best physical shape of his fistic career and was confident that he would dispose of Heeney.

Dr. F. M. Chambliss, county coroner, reported to police Tuesday afternoon, that he discovered the theft of a quantity of hypodermic equipment from his offices in the Messenger Building.

His entire stock of ether sprays, needles, chloroform and syringes had been removed, he reported. Minor thefts have occurred at the office previously, the doctor says and he suspects the identity of the thief. The lock on the outer door of the office had been forced, he said.

ing cheese in Xenia for the last two years and also operates a plant in West Liberty. His factories are located at the plants of the Springfield Dairy Products Co. here and in West Liberty, from which firm he purchases the milk and cream used in his product. The cheese business is not connected with the dairy business, however, Mr. Bowers says.

Mr. Bowers manufactures a soft cream cheese known as Checo. About 20,000 pounds of this cheese are shipped out from the two plants each week, the product being sent over several states, and the firm expects to manufacture over one million pounds this year.

TO HAVE BUILDING AT COUNTY FAIR

Mrs. Mattie Smith will again have charge of the W. C. T. U. building at the Greene County Fair, it is announced. Articles will be checked here, drinking cups obtained, and public telephone service and other conveniences provided.

The building includes a rest room and emergency room.

Mr. Bowers manufactures a soft cream cheese known as Checo. About 20,000 pounds of this cheese are shipped out from the two plants each week, the product being sent over several states, and the firm expects to manufacture over one million pounds this year.

Every man, woman and child in Speculator gathered at the edge of the lake to wish Tunney success as he entered the plane.

The champion who, arose at 7 o'clock, his usual hour, assured his well-wishers that he was in the best physical shape of his fistic career and was confident that he would dispose of Heeney.

Dr. F. M. Chambliss, county coroner, reported to police Tuesday afternoon, that he discovered the theft of a quantity of hypodermic equipment from his offices in the Messenger Building.

His entire stock of ether sprays, needles, chloroform and syringes had been removed, he reported. Minor thefts have occurred at the office previously, the doctor says and he suspects the identity of the thief. The lock on the outer door of the office had been forced, he said.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

WOE AND SORROW—Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babblings? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine.—Prov. 23:29,30.

TWO MEXICAN TRAGEDIES

In the confusion and apprehension caused by the cruel murder of General Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, the people of that country will value doubly the goodwill of the United States. This is being manifested without stint and in all sincerity. Horror at the crime has been expressed, and along with it is going the hope that the stability of the Mexican government will not be shaken by this terrible blow to public confidence. Any assurances which our own government can give will be extended to Mexico in this, her hour of severe trial.

Sentiment between two countries is not unlike that between two persons. More may depend upon some kindly or generous act, some impulsive gesture, than upon a long course of perfectly correct conduct.

This is the reason why the American tributes of respect to Captain Carranza have taken on so deep a significance. The Mexican people have accepted them as a special mark of friendly feeling. The flight of the gallant Carranza to the United States was much more than a private venture. He came as the bearer of official greetings from Mexico. When he set out on his return he expected to report to the Mexicans the extent of the good will for them which he found in this country, both in private and in public. Now that message has been spoken only by his dead lips. But it was fitting that his sorrowful journey home to Mexico should be signaled by the military honors which were paid to him and by the general manifestations of regret and sympathy which were seen on all sides in this country as the funeral cortege moved from New York to the Mexican border.

Special emphasis has been given to all this by Obregon's assassination. Mexico will look more and more to this country as a friend in need, and no token of our desire to stand faithfully by her side should be lacking.

PLACING THE BLAME

Enforcement of laws is going to be weak as long as politics affects them much. The election or appointment of judges, prosecuting attorneys, and police forces ought to be entirely divorced from politics, but it is next to impossible to make such a separation.

When people are elected or appointed to such positions because of political affiliation or political service, rather than because they are the best men, then we have a condition out of which the lax enforcement of the laws is going to grow.

If the people find that crime is not put down, they accomplish very little by laying the blame on the courts and other officials. The trouble is with the people themselves, for not showing good judgment and putting the right people in office. Crime can be repressed whenever the people insist that it must be repressed at all costs.

THE GO SIGN

A handful of men and two teams of horses began digging up a downtown lot.

"Is the new hotel going up now?" a bystander asked.

"Not now," was the answer, "but the man who leased the property to build a hotel has been ordered to DO SOMETHING, or under the terms of the lease he cannot hold it."

It is comfortable not to do anything or go anywhere. Sometimes events prove we were wise to know when not to do anything or go anywhere. Our judgment must tell us when those times are at hand. Usually to GO is the important part of a policy.

The fact that they believed the go-sign was always turned on is one of the secrets of the achievements of most of the great leaders of history.

IN THE EARTH'S HEART

A gigantic laboratory lies in the heart of the earth. It is such a huge storehouse of riches that our minds can hardly grasp the size and significance of it. In this almost measureless laboratory there are being manufactured the material resources upon which industrial civilization is built.

Oil, gas, iron, coal are being made in earth's laboratory by the wonder-processes of nature. There is not just a definite amount of assets in the earth. New material is constantly being made. The question is whether the increasing demands of men are using it up at such a rate that in spite of its increase it will run out. The countless generations to come will prove whether the laboratory processes are fast enough.

PREPARATION

Great men may seem to rise to heights at a sudden bound. They may seem to nail their flags high at a single stroke. That is not the way they are made. The world has not seen the patience, the unsuccessful trials, the failures and the new starts that have gone before. We shall fruit. Preparation is hidden.

Daniel Webster referred in a burst of enduring eloquence to the fact that Great Britain's dominions are so widely distributed over the earth that the sun never sets on her power. He found her "keeping drum beats with the hours."

A man congratulated Webster on his words and his eloquence.

"How did you come to think of it," the friend asked.

"I have been thinking of it for years," said Webster.

TO BE FIRST

We are too much excited about being first. So often being first means little. There is a craze for setting records. Somebody wants to sit on a flag pole longer than anyone else. Somebody wants to dance continuously for a few days and nights in the hope of being first to accomplish an absurd objective. It is so much more important to determine, quite calmly, whether you are doing anything worth doing than it is merely to be out for a record.

NEWS COMMENT AND VIEWS

The Diary of a New Yorker

by CLARK KINNAIRD

NEW YORK, July 26. — Broad-

way, blinded by the reflection of bright lights reflected upon its tinsel, never is able to see why any one should consider its favors lightly. It doesn't understand why there should be such an irresistible fascination about the sombre Metropolitan Opera House for girls whose names twinkle in Broadway lights. No names sparkle in electric signs at the Metropolitan, and with few exceptions, leading singers in the opera get a smaller weekly wage than principals in Broadway shows. (Marion Talley, for instance, whose concert fee is a couple thousand, receives only a couple of hundreds dollars for a Metropolitan performance.)

Mary Lewis and Grace Moore of musical comedy fame turned their backs on Broadway to seek success at the Metropolitan, and attained their goal. Now Helen Gahagan, young actress who scored an outstanding success in "Seventh Heaven," and who could have choice roles for the asking, has given up her stage career to be an cultivated member of her voice with prima donna roles at the Metropolitan as her objective. Mary Ellis, star in both drama and musical comedy, has the same intentions.

Instances of stage girls lifted by exceptional talents to concert or operatic fame are common enough now. And there are frequent cases of girls who aspired to the dizzy heights of opera star and had to descend the ladder of musical comedy to find fortune. But Nanette Guilford stands alone as one who achieved leading roles at the Metropolitan after failing dismally as a Broadway chorus girl. In one show she didn't get beyond rehearsals in another she lasted two weeks.

The men seem to be getting away from the husband-hunters this Leap Year. In New York City the total number of marriages so far this year is far behind the score for 1927.

On Broadway everything is forgotten quickly except a big spender. When Alexander Peacock, steelman, died, stories of how he had made his money from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 in having a good time were retold along the Joy Canyon. The extraordinary thing about his lavish expenditures for pleasure was that he was Scotch.

One morning his breakfast egg was bad, so he went out that day and bought a $600,000 farm to keep him supplied with fresh eggs. Another time he wanted to go to Los Angeles and couldn't get anything but an upper berth, so he chartered himself a special train. And once he got into a card game in which the sky was the limit and $500,000 changed hands.

Peacock's extravagant manner of traveling around with his friends is daily equalled to a considerable degree by millionaire New Yorkers who own private railway cars. Many of them, like W. F. Kenny, Governor Al Smith's close friend, never take a trip by rail, even of the shortest duration, except in a private car. The cost of going from point to point in such a car amounts to the price of 25 railroad tickets plus a 10 per cent surcharge.

Most of the persons who travel in this manner own the cars, but it is possible to rent palace Pullmans for as little as $30 a day, to which, of course, the transportation charge is added.

Private cars cost from $50,000 to $150,000 each, depending on the elegance of the fittings. They have real beds, baths, liquor-cellars, kitchens and dining rooms, butlers, paintings, sculptures, radios, motion picture machines, telephones (for use in terminals).

Since such cars have accommodations for only six or eight persons, it is necessary for the owner, when he is taking a long trip, to hire a second car for other guests, servants, baggage, etc.

The unsafest place in New York for pedestrians is not 42nd and Seventh avenue, "busiest corner in the world," but West street, along the Hudson river, where most of the try-outs for driver's licenses are held. Licenses are compulsory for all who drive in New York state. This, of course, excepts tourists.

Snow, rainstorms and such do not greatly affect plays on Broadway, but heat does. Managers who never worry about zero weather make reservations in Cain's scenery storage warehouse when the thermometer gets above 90.

Kellygrams

By FRED C. KELLY

I know a man who devoted several weeks to investigating the merits of a corporation in which he thought of investing his money. He got the best judgment of a banker, a professional analyst and of two or three other men in close touch with the business of the corporation.

But one day he remarked to a friend that he was thinking of buying some of that stock and the friend said:

"Oh, I don't think you should buy that."

Immediately the man changed his plan and bought without investigation something else that proved worthless.

Just why is it, I wonder, that men are so inclined to distrust their own judgment? Why does a man who knows something about his own business, let himself be swayed by the opinion of others who know nothing about it?

Health Hints for Vacationists

If you have not yet heard the call of the sea, the mountain or the countryside, it is because you are deliberately willing your imagination away from the pleasure lands. It is more probable, however, that even now you are preparing your wardrobe for the annual vacation, when in a short two weeks' time you hope to restore health to your jaded body and pep to your mind.

It is through the very compelling, irresistible urge, that we do regain health and strength and energy in the fleeting days of a short vacation. And not as a health measure—but as a beauty requisite—I am urging every one of you to plan some change, a whole two weeks of it, at least—so that October will find you refreshed and rejuvenated.

Health and beauty are so closely akin that it is difficult to talk about one without including the other. It is always in my mind at this season of the year, to warn the great army of vacationists about the dangers that await the unprepared in some of the most popular resorts.

There are water dangers—not only those that your physician must advise you about—but those that lie wholly within the province of a beauty specialist.

I have frequently been called upon to treat severe cases of dryness, premature aging, and serious irritation which have resulted merely from the constant use of hard water.

There are hundreds of thickly populated regions, both in and out of the city, where only hard water is obtainable.

You cannot change the reservoir supply of these places, but you can provide yourself against the actions of hard alkaline water on your skin.

Either a manufactured water softener may be obtained, or you can tuck away a small box of borax in a corner of your handbag, and recognize yourself fully guarded against the ravages of bad water.

In addition to this, and if your vacation is lasting for longer than a week, I cannot too strongly urge upon your unbreakable traveling tin of an inexpensive pasteurized cream, which will have the same soothing effect upon outraged tissues as pure milk. In fact, I suggest your purchasing cream which has this ingredient as a base. Fresh milk. I may tell you here, has been recognized for generations as an infallible soothing agent. It never fails to cool and refresh the surface tissues of the hands or face.

VEGETABLES VS. ANIMAL PROTEIN

You know what fats are, and you know what starches and sugars are. But do you know what protein, the other great principle, is? I'll tell you.

Protein is the building and repair element in food, therefore it is absolutely necessary in all diets. Too much is believed to be an irritant, as the protein wastes have the muscles, blood and kidneys; but too little is also detrimental, for then the growth and repair processes will not go on. And remember that one vital tissue is always growing, even in the adult, and that is the blood corpuscles, and that always the constant body cells need a lot of repair.

Why We Should Have Some Animal Protein.

1. Most vegetable proteins lack some of the building stones, so are not nearly so efficient in building up the muscles, blood, and other vital organs as the animal proteins. Furthermore, vegetable proteins are not so completely digested as the animal protein.

2. The mineral matter in a strictly vegetarian diet alone is insufficient to meet the body requirements.

3. Another disadvantage of trying to get all of the nourishment from the vegetable kingdom is that the digestive tract will have too much cellulose or fiber, and there will be too much distension and gas.

Fortunately, most so-called vegetarians are really not strict vegetarians, for they take animal products—Eggs, milk, butter and cheese.

They are really lacto-ovo vegetarians.

Those who are real vegetarians must make a very conscious effort to secure all the necessary protein. Most nuts and the soy bean seem to have a higher grade of protein than the other vegetable products. In some animal experiments these have proved to be sufficient to maintain growth and repair.

If you do not eat any flesh foods at all, then you should have at least a quart of milk a day, for milk has a large quantity of very high-grade protein.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, July 26. — Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Al Smith's running mate, isn't one of those super-methodical individuals you can set your watch by.

Any watch that was regulated according to Joe Robinson's schedule would be a very unreliable timepiece, because his schedule varies like everything.

Some nights he turns in much later than he does other nights. That invariably makes him later than usual getting up the next morning—and corresponding late for breakfast. He catches his other meals whenever the opportunity offers — his luncheon sometime in the course of the afternoon—dinner whenever it's ready, and he is. Then that night, being tired, perhaps he'll hit the hay exceptionally early, which will make his ensuing day entirely different from the preceding one.

The Arkansas solon doesn't operate in conformity to any hard-and-fast schedule. He isn't a railroad train and he doesn't have to.

He's now in the midst of his third congressional session as minority leader of the United States senate, besides being the Democratic candidate for vice president. He can't stick to any set routine. Maybe some statesmen can, but not Joe Robinson. He works when he must, which includes a lot of overtime. He plays when he can—and he's as strenuous about it as he is about the other thing. Frequently a few hours remain to him, out of the 24, for eating and sleeping. He takes advantage of 'em when they happen—but not with any degree of dependability that you could set your watch by.

Rushed as he is Senator Robinson likes to live as close as possible to the scene of his official activities.

He and his family occupy a suite, during the session, at 140 Maryland avenue. In what's known as the Methodist building, only a few steps from the Senate Office building, which, in turn, is but a few steps more from the senate entrance to the Capitol building.

Once upon a time, the senator generally started his breakfast in the Methodist building cafe, but as often as not he's interrupted in the middle of it by a telephone call from his office and finishes it, later in the forenoon, in the Senate Office building restaurant.

"He's generally at his desk," his secretary informs me, "by 9 a. m.," which might be considered as furnishing some sort of a clue as to the Arkansas's rising hour, were it not for the fact that the secretary has a qualifying clause to add—"when his work hasn't kept him up very late the night before."

That rather takes the definiteness out of it.

Senator Robinson's a very fair worker.

He has to be. His outer office always is crowded with visitors. His telephone's seldom silent and the volume of his correspondence is enormous. Nevertheless, he's always on hand for roll call promptly at noon, in the senate chamber. From then, until adjournment, he has to be uninterrupted on the firing line, or at least within call—snatching a nibble of food in the senate restaurant when there's a lull in his work, but mightily infrequently without several interruptions before he reaches the dessert course.

At 5 or 6, or whenever the session ends, sometimes he's due for a conference in the minority room, sometimes he gets back for an hour or two in his own office, and, once in awhile, on Saturday or in case of an accidentally early windup of the day's proceedings, he gets away for a golf game.

Joe's a golf enthusiast. He plays an average game and he's a strict stickler for the rules—observes 'em all himself and doesn't allow the opposition to take any liberties with 'em.

Evenings and Sundays he professes to devote to reading.

Inasmuch as his evenings hardly ever begin, with dinner out of the way, until most people would consider them pretty late, and by that time he ordinarily has callers on official business, it's hard to see how he gets through with much literature. Yet he does—eventually—for he's extraordinarily well informed.

Current events, politics, political economy, foreign affairs, agriculture, heavy stuff of all sorts. The magazines seem to have read all of it. The newspapers — of course. Even up-to-date fiction—he's touched with that, too.

FIREMEN DEFEATED BY CENTRAL OUTFIT IN SOFTBALL GAME

Early Innings Fatal; Carroll-Binders Defeat Langs.

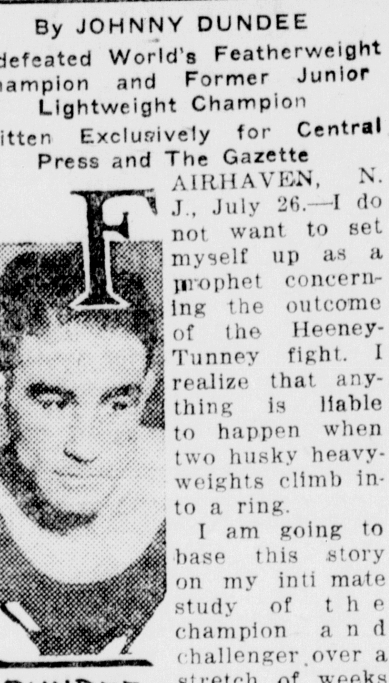

Bell of Central High School and Downey for the Firemen staged a pitching duel after the second inning of a National League softball game at Cox Field Wednesday evening but the damage had already been done.

Central High won the game 9 to 7 after the play in the early innings had indicated a free hitting contest. The Firemen drew first blood in the opening stanza when five runs were rushed across the plate by L. Cope, I. Towles, Davis, Cain and Swartz. The lead, however, was of short duration, as the high school team came back with an eight-run carnival in the second and third innings.

Runs were scored by Gibney, Doak, Smittle, Buell, Tull, Bell, Monroe and Bell before the side was retired while the Firemen were praying for a fire alarm to ring. Nothing like that happened, however, and during remaining innings the fire fighters found themselves completely exhausted. Downey and Bell pitched well after the disastrous first two innings.

The Carroll-Binders defeated the Lang Chevrolet 24 to 2 Tuesday evening in an American League contest. The lineup Wednesday evening: Firemen—Haller, 2b; L. Cope, ss; Towles, 3b; Davis, 1b; Cain, lf; Buell, cf; Swartz, rf; Downey, p; C. Cope, c; High School—Rice, 2b; Monroe, rf; Bell, p; Gibney, 1b; Doak, ss; Smittle, 3b; Buell, lf; Tull, c; Michaels, cf. Thursday night the Downtown Country Club meets the Phi Delt and Friday evening's game will see the Havana Cigars engaging the St. Brigd team.

DUNDEE PICKS TUNNEY WITH KAYO

DUNDEE

By JOHNNY DUNDEE
Undeclared World's Featherweight Champion and Former Junior Lightweight Champion
Written Exclusively for Central Press and The Gazette

AIRHAVEN, N. J., July 26.—I do not want to set myself up as a prophet concerning the outcome of the Heeneey-Tunney fight. I realize that anything is liable to happen when two husky heavyweights climb into a ring.

I am going to base this story on my intimate study of the champion and challenger, over a stretch of weeks in which I have observed the most important periods of their training.

I pick Tunney to win. I pick him to win probably on a decision but I would not be surprised to see the fight end with a technical knockout. Neither would I be surprised to see Tunney score several knockdowns.

Gene has a jarring left this year that he is certain to land on the rushing, aggressive Heeneey. He has learned how to use it more effectively than last year. He has a habit of cutting down and across the eyes with his fists. This cuts the eyebrows and in a short time renders his man helpless and blind. They stopped the Spalla fight for this reason. They had to lead Dempsey across the ring in Philadelphia to congratulate the new king for the same reason.

If Gene keeps peppering away at Heeneey's eyes in this fashion he does not have to take any chances and he can keep up the barrage of hooks and jabs round after round for fifteen sessions. Some time or other he is bound to gain the end. Heeneey will lose the greater number of blows but I fear he will be smothered in the clinches. Gene's greatest danger as I see it is going "right hand crazy."

In his anxiety to prove himself a popular champion and a knockout he will bring his chin into the danger zone. Whether he can do that often enough and still escape Heeneey's possible target hits is a matter of judgment and speed.

Personally I rate Tunney faster and more alert. I have all the respect in the world for Heeneey. He has plenty of stamina and courage and will be difficult to knock out. That is why I hesitate to pick the battle-end as a knockout.

Both men are in superb physical condition. Tunney is especially fit. He is criticized for missing with his right but then he never was absolutely perfect in landing with his right. No fighter is.

Neither Tunney or Heeneey are gymnasium fighters. They plug along through a set training schedule and both out their true merit in the ring.

Heeneey's aggressive plan of attack and Tunney's jabbing counter will make it a pretty fight to watch. Well—here's the best of luck to both of them.

Are You Ready

When your Children Cry for It

Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have eased your child without the use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot pat away. And it's always ready for the crueler pangs of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea, effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

DISCOVERY OF DEAD INFANT RESULTS IN CORONER'S PROBE

An undeveloped male infant, whose body was found along the roadside on the Yellow Springs and Cedarville Pike half a mile east of Grinnell's Mill, about noon Wednesday, was evidently killed by being tossed from an automobile, in the opinion of Coroner F. M. Chambliss who investigated. The only injury on the body was a bruise on the head, Dr. Chambliss said.

The body was found by a man cutting weeds, and Sheriff Ohmer Tate was called by M. R. Grinnell. The sheriff notified Coroner Chambliss who took charge of the body and later turned it over to an undertaker for burial.

Coroner Chambliss said that an investigation in an effort to determine the parentage of the infant would be made among doctors and hospitals.

KEARNS BETS HEAVY

NEW YORK, July 26.—One of the largest wagers made on tonight's fight involves Jack Kearns who has laid $20,000 against $15,000 that Tunney will not score a knockout. Dempsey's former pilot declares Gene can't put Tom to sleep but believes Tunney will win the decision.

DON'T suffer headaches, or any of those pains that Bayer Aspirin can end in a hurry! Physicians prescribe it, and approve its free use, for it does not affect the heart. Every druggist has it, but don't fail to ask the druggist for Bayer. And don't take any but the box that says Bayer, with the word genuine printed in red!

BOEING AIRPLANE OFFICIAL VISITS AIRCRAFT CENTERS

Gardner W. Carr, Seattle, Wash., assistant to the president of the Boeing Airplane Co., is making a two-day inspection tour of Wright Field, Fairfield and the Dickerson Steel Co., Dayton, makers of airplane parts, in a tour of the country.

Mr. Carr's wife was before marriage, Miss Mabel M. Foley, this city. He is well known in aeronautical circles, having been assistant chief production engineer of the old McCook Field Dayton, from 1920 to 1924. He is now associated with the Boeing Airplane Co., the Boeing Transport Co., and the Pacific Airways Co.

On his tour, Mr. Carr is gathering data on the progress of airplane development and traveled from Seattle to Chicago by plane. He covered 2,600 miles in twenty hours, planes of the Boeing company landing daily in Chicago from the west and in San Francisco from the east. He has been visiting fields and plants over the east also.

The transcontinental planes are equipped for every convenience including splendid dining and sleeping quarters and radio entertainment. Tri-motored ships with 1,275 horsepower are used in the 12 passenger airway. The Rocky Mountain country is covered by daylight and the passengers leave Chicago at night to awaken over the Grand Canyon. More than 25 percent of travelers from Chicago to San Francisco are carried via the air, according to Mr. Carr and 1,500 pounds of

MUNICIPAL BAND TO HALT PROGRAM FOR FIGHT BROADCAST

Down town Xenia will offer an abundance of entertainment Thursday evening. The Municipal Band will give the usual Thursday evening concert in front of the Court House at 8 o'clock.

The band leaders have consented to plan their program so that it will not conflict with the Gazette's broadcast of the Tunney-Henney fight. If the fight comes on before the end of the concert, the band will announce an intermission and finish the program after the fight is over. This arrangement will allow the crowds that assemble for the fight to have the entertainment of the local band concert while they wait for the big event.

The band announces the following program for Thursday evening. March, Boy Scouts — Henneberg March, Adalid — R. B. Hall Overture, Panorama — Barnhouse March, Lucky Slim — Mader Waltz, Bliss Eternal — Bennett March, 4th Battalion — Wehrmann Descriptive, My Grandfather's Clock — Amsteden The World Is Waiting For The Sunrise — Lockhart and Seltz March, Philo Senate — R. B. Hall The Best Loved Irish Melodies — Hayes March, Westmount Cadets — Wood Star Spangled Banner.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

Columbus, was taken seriously ill Saturday evening and is not much improved.

Mrs. Ella Callman, Grand Worthy Councillor of the Court of Calanthe of the state of Ohio left Monday for Toledo, O., where she will preside over the Grand Court sessions of said organization.

Mr. Wm. Lane of East Market Street was a business visitor in Columbus, O., Monday.

INSANE PATIENT IS CAUGHT FOLLOWING ESCAPE FROM COURT

John Wakely, insane patient from Spring Valley, awaiting removal to the Dayton State Hospital, made a sudden dash for liberty from a window of probate court Wednesday afternoon.

Alighting in an enclosure about basement windows about twelve feet deep, Wakely, apparently unhurt, jumped up and scrambled out with the agility of a cat. He was running rapidly away when he was caught by two men who had been seated on the steps leading to the west entrance of the Court House, and who heard the cry of Probation Officer J. E. Watts for help as Wakely leaped.

They were joined by Officer Watts, and the three men engaged in a desperate struggle to remove Wakely to the county jail. As they reached Green St. they were joined by Sheriff Ohmer Tate, and the four men picked Wakely up and carried him to the hospital Wednesday night by Deputy Sheriff George Sugden. Wakely quieted after being locked up and gave no further trouble.

As he struggled to escape from his captors Wakely screamed loudly attracting a crowd of onlookers. He had been walking about in the probate court room under the eye of an officer, following his commitment and had shown no disposition toward violence until his unexpected dash for liberty. Officer Watts made an ineffectual effort to hold him. Wakely's coat tail slipping through the officer's fingers as he grabbed for the fleeing man.

Xenia radio fans who want to hear the Tunney-Henney prize-fight broadcast over their own receiving sets Thursday night, should tune in on Station WSAI, Cincinnati, about 8 o'clock.

The fight is being broadcast over a National Broadcasting Co., hook-up, and including most all of the big stations, with WSAI as the closest and therefore probably the most satisfactory for Xenia listeners.

The program, scheduled to start at 8 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, in Thursday morning announcements, will include the pre-fight announcements and the preliminary bouts, with the big event scheduled to get under way about 9 o'clock. Graham McNamee will handle the microphone for the blow-by-blow ring-side account of the Henney-Tunney bout and Phillips Carlin will speak between rounds and will make pre-fight announcements giving information on the fighters and the crowds.

Beautyrest
Mattress

You've never known comfort until you've slept on a Simmons Beautyrest. This famous mattress is the product of painstaking experiment by the world's largest makers. It has been on the market less than two years—and is today the largest selling mattress made.

In construction it is entirely different from any other mattress. Its center is made up of hundreds of springy wire coils. Each coil is permanently anchored in its individual pocket. Then these pockets are all sewn together making a live, springy center that somewhat resembles a honeycomb. On top and bottom, covering this center, are placed layer after layer of finest matting.

The coils make it possible for the Beautyrest to closely follow the outline of the body—supporting it, resting it.

Such luxurious buoyancy is almost unbelievable! And smart, new coverings and tailored lines give visible evidence of its durable quality.

ELABORATE PROGRAM FOR HOME-COMING

ASSISTANT AGRICULTURE HEAD MAY SPEAK; WILL HONOR FESS

Historical Exhibit, Parades, Band Concerts, Barbecue, Dancing, Aerial Circus, Few Of Entertainment Arrangements.

Assistant U. S. Secretary of Agriculture, W. Dunlap, has been invited to deliver an address on Greene County day, third day of the Home-Coming, according to Dr. A. C. Messenger, chairman of the program committee. Secretary Dunlap's acceptance has not yet been received. His address will feature the afternoon program of the day when a general reception will take place in honor of United States Senator S. D. Fess of Yellow Springs. Several thousand invitations are to be sent out for this affair, to people all over the state, including many prominent persons and it is expected to be an outstanding feature of the home-coming celebration.

Details of the program were announced at the weekly meeting of Home-Coming committees Tuesday night.

Sunday, August 26, the opening day will be observed with religious and community gatherings. Churches are expected to observe Home-Coming services in which visiting pastors who are former Xenians, will participate, in the forenoon.

The afternoon program will be featured by the presentation of a replica of the first church service believed to have been held in Greene County. This will be in charge of Dr. W. A. Culloway, well known local historian, who is making an exhaustive research in an effort to have all details of the feature conform as nearly as possible to the facts.

Sunday evening Senator Fess is expected to address a community meeting in the new auditorium in Shawnee Park where it is expected to hold most of the indoor features of the celebration. Dr. John Acheson, president of McAlister College, St. Paul, Minn., a former Xenian, will preside at this meeting.

Monday will be observed as lodge and school day. Band concerts and meetings of old friends will feature the morning. Lodges and schools are expected to participate in a parade at 7 p. m. A band from the Dayton Council of the Daughters of America, the Cadet Band from the O. S. and S. O. Home, Osborn and Jamestown school bands have signified their intention of entering the parade. In the afternoon Daughters of America will present a flag to Xenia Boy Scouts in a program at Shawnee Park, when an address will be delivered by Mrs. A. E. Paulkner of this city, national councillor of the D. of A. There will also be a ball game in the afternoon.

A barbecue, with an ox roast and all other features of such a celebration will feature Greene County day, which will be observed Tuesday.

The Tuesday parade will take place at 1 p. m. In the afternoon a public reception will be held in the auditorium at Shawnee Park in honor of Senator Fess, when it is expected that Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Dunlap will speak. An aerial circus will also take place in the afternoon.

Wednesday, the final day, is to be known as patriotic day. The program will be in charge of patriotic organizations, and will be featured by presentation to the county by the American Legion of a steel flag pole. This pole, which will be eighty-five feet tall will be erected in the south walk leading to the Court House. The presentation will come at the close of the parade in the afternoon. Airplanes will also participate in the patriotic day program.

Band concerts will take place each morning and each night of the Home-Coming except Sunday there will be a dance in the park auditorium in charge of members of Phi Delta Kappa fraternity. These dances are to be under the supervision of City Auditor Zoll, chairman of the Home-Coming, and the proceeds will go to the Home-Coming committee. The Women's Civic League will have charge of all refreshments to be sold in the park and this money will also go to the Home-Coming committee to be devoted to the auditorium fund.

Catharine Greene Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will dedicate trees in Shawnee Park which have been planted by that organization in memory of Greene County Revolutionary soldiers.

What is expected to be an entertaining feature of the Home-Coming will be the historical exhibit in charge of Dr. W. A. Culloway, which will be given in the Masonic Temple. Elaborate plans for this exhibition have been made by Dr. Culloway. Attendants will be dressed in old time garb, and the surroundings will be made to take on an old time atmosphere in every way.

MRS. J. B. THOMAS REMOVED BY DEATH

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Thomas, 67 wife of J. B. Thomas, died at her home on the Maple Corner Road at 9:30 Wednesday night. Her health had been failing for the last three years, and since Christmas her condition had been more serious.

Mrs. Thomas was born in New York July 16, 1860. She had lived in Greene County ever since her marriage which took place December 19, 1879. Surviving are her husband and two sons, Frank who has made his home with his parents, and Marshall of Xenia, and a sister, Mrs. S. A. Thomas of Shenandoah, Iowa. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Old Town.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home Saturday at 1:30. Interment in Woodland Cemetery.

WHAT DID ANDREW JACKSON DO FOR CHEVROLET?

Andrew Jackson is the father of Chevrolet used car advertising. Jackson was a very poor speller and he would spell all correct in this manner (Oil Korrekt) hence the term O. K. for short. The little red tag on one of our used cars means that it has been thoroughly reconditioned and is (Oil Korrekt) or O. K. You never go wrong on an O. K. tag.

READ THIS FIRST:

Janet Mary James, eighteen, sweet and good and clever, has an ambition to go on the stage. Helped by her Uncle Jules in France, Janet goes to New York, where the very first evening she is hit by a taxi but is not seriously injured. At the hospital she meets Dr. Ballard Riley, a big, handsome fellow, who the nurses say is a woman hater. Dr. Riley jokes with Janet when he finds she has just arrived from Big Sandy, Kentucky, to find fame and fortune in the big city. He lectures her, and gives her a lot of advice. Janet is overjoyed when Ballard Riley asks her for a date. The woman later dating her up! At the Folies Janet meets Flavia Marlowe, about fifty years old, smartly gowned, modern and rich. Flavia is a patroness of the arts in Greenwich Village. She is just beginning to wrinkle and trying to hide it.

Janet attends a party in Flavia's studio, and meets "Putty" Bigelow and Sir Henry Martindale, friends of Flavia's.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER VIII

He looked at the long, slender hands of Janet, lying in her lap, and at the concert piano in the corner.

"I'd stake a whisky and soda that you play the piano, Janet."

"This was Flavia's cue, and she took it."

The Theater

By C. K.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Personal and confidential: Blanche Sweet has given up plans to make Michael Arlen's best seller, "The Green Hat," and Greta Garbo is going to star in it under the title, "A Woman of Affairs." M-G-M is giving another chance to contrite James Murray, whom it suspended for making whoopee after he starred in "The Crowd."

Robert Flaherty, whose "Nanook of the North" and "Moana of the South Seas" are clasped in the movies "20 greatest," is now doing a red-Indian story, with a cast composed exclusively of original Americans.

Doris Kenyon will no longer play opposite husband Milton Sills, because she is now working for Paramount, with Clive Brook as co-star. Incidentally, D. W. Griffith ought to get some credit as a pioneer in sound picture effects. He introduced them ten years ago, in "Dream Street." Capital couldn't be obtained to develop the idea then; Griffith was ahead of his time.

Twenty Years '08- Ago -'28

Two sensations were sprung at the matinee races yesterday afternoon. The half-mile record was made by Brownie Herr, owned by George Grottenbach and Harry Mc stepped a mile in 2:14. Brownie Herr made 1:05, the old record being 1:05 1/4 by Legal Jr. Mrs. H. E. Schmidt and Mrs. Leopold Steinfelds have returned after two weeks at Petoskey, Mich. Mr. Ed Hunt, the "motorcycle man," has purchased a new Excelsior motorcycle for his own use. Mr. Cliff Sutton has equipped his automobile with a set of Dayton Airless Tires. This tire is a new product.

Betty Bronson, who played the title role in the screenization of "Peter Pan," has now grown up to the extent that she has been made leading woman for Al Jolson in his next talkie.

star. Barry Norton's real name is Alfred de Biraben, and he was born in South America. Greta Garbo claims to be only 22. Marguerite de la Motte, Doug Fairbanks' leading woman in "The Three Musketeers," is opposite him again in "The Man in the Iron Mask."

Lyda de Putti is having her nose reshaped surgically. Gloria Swanson's husband, who'd be a marquis if Poland (not France) was a monarchy, will play in pictures under the name of Henry Palaise. Most every one calls him "Hank."

NEW YORK GREETING BOUT CALMLY; MANY SEATS TO BE EMPTY

championship promotion. All of his previous extravaganzas made thousands upon thousands in profits for his backers; this time, he will make little or nothing.

They have dubbed Heeneey, the New Zealand challenger, the "Man from down under." But they selected the wrong party. The man from down under today is Tex Rickard as he contemplated his cash on hand and compares it with the fact that he has contracted to pay Tunney $25,000, Heeneey $100,000 and the government some thirty percent of his receipts, in addition to underwriting the rental of the field and the usual expenses contiguous with the staging of an event of this kind.

One of Rickard's last, despairing gestures will be to throw 7,000 general admissions on the market at four o'clock this afternoon at $3 each, a cut-rate scheme he would have scored in those fabled days at Philadelphia and Chicago when he was raking in his millions from the avid throngs who gathered for the Dempsey-Tunney meetings. It was Dempsey's hold on the public that made these gates possible and so it must be conceded that it is Dempsey's absence from the present equation that leaves Rickard struggling for an even break at the pay off.

With this impelling figure as a spectator, or at the most, a corner handler, there was nothing about this fight with which to intrigue the popular fancy. There has been a studied attempt to picture Tunney as a man in whom the "killer" has been born overnight but, to the same students of form, the lack of a single knockdown over the entire fifteen rounds would come as no great surprise. Tunney has given some indication in training that he is disposed to sacrifice some speed in a desire to punch it out with the challenger. This undoubtedly would produce a better fight than many believe they are due to see. But it isn't likely to lead to a knockout. Both men are tough; neither can punch in the accepted sense of the term. A knockout, with that combination, is hardly probable.

Tunney remained the favorite in the rather sporadic betting today and well he might. If there is any form on this fight, Tunney figures to have it with his superior speed, his cleaner punching, ring sense, greater experience and the knowledge that a defeat would make him appear almost ludicrous. They are said to have made him a favorite at odds as high as 2-1 to 1, which, in the light of subsequent developments, may prove to be quite out of line.

The flight from Speculator is an excellent publicity move, though not so intended. It also is the worst thing Tunney could do to his physical well being.

A nervous, sensitive man at best, he will be highly keyed up and emotional on the morning of the fight. So to settle his nerves and compose his stomach, he will spend the early part of the day taking an overland flight of more than 250 miles, as the bird flies. Some of it will be off the line of waterways, although an amphibian plane is to be used.

Heeneey, meantime, will be steaming up to the official weighing in at two o'clock from Long Branch on a private yacht. Yes, those modern fighters do big things in a big way. But they aren't going to make money for Tex Rickard this time even if they race each other into town on velocipedes.

CUMMINS RETURNS AFTER JAIL ESCAPE

"Here I am sheriff. Lock me up," announced William Cummins, Xenia as he presented himself to Sheriff Ohmer Tate at the county jail Tuesday evening.

Cummins, who was serving a sentence for assaulting his wife, walked away from the jail a week ago when he was trusted to go in to the back yard on an errand. Cummins failed to say where he had been during his week's vacation. He was sentenced by Mayor Prugh to sixty days in jail and to pay a fine of $50 and costs for assaulting his wife, and had served about two weeks.

NOBILE - RELIEF SHIP ARRIVES IN NORWAY

LONDON, July 26.—With its flag at half mast, the supply ship Citta Di Milano with Gen. Umberto Nobile and the survivors of the Italia disaster on board, arrived at Narvik, Norway, today said a Central News dispatch from that city.

The arrival, added the dispatch, was watched with sullen interest by the harbor workers who refused to handle the ropes thrown from the ship to the docks.

As soon as the steamer had been moored an Italian soldier with rifle and fixed bayonet was stationed on the middle gangway.

It was announced that Gen. No-

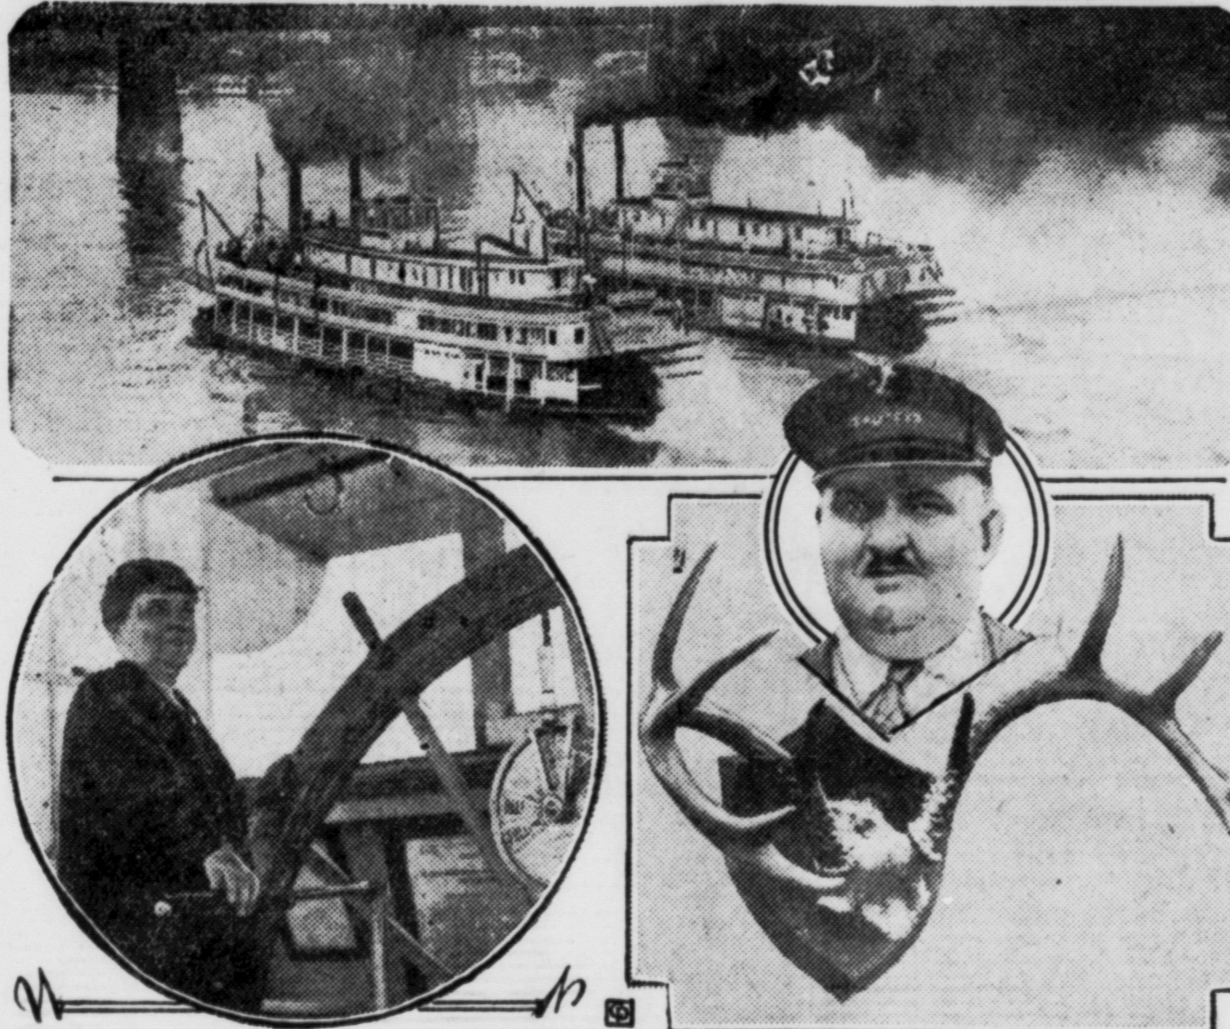

bile and his companions would not go ashore until darkness when they will go direct to the special train provided for them.

A representative from the Italian legation at Stockholm went to Narvik to greet the Nobile survivors and help them hasten their homeward journey. They are expected to begin their train journey tonight or early tomorrow morning.

Resentment of the Norwegian people over the expedition and the subsequent loss of Capt. Roald Amundsen led to precautionary measures to prevent any untoward incident.

TO SIGN TREATY AUGUST 27

RACE HONORS WON BY MODERN BOAT IN RIVER TEST

Left is Captain Mary Becker Greene, only woman pilot on the Ohio river, and owner of the winning boat. At right is her son, Captain Chris Greene, after whom the boat was named, and of which he is master.

FIFTEEN POWERS TO AFFIX SIGNATURES BEFORE SEPTEMBER

Other Nations May Also Agree To Treaty Soon.

PARIS, July 26.—The American treaty to maintain world peace by outlawing war will be signed here by the powers on August 27, the foreign office announced this afternoon.

While dispatches from Washington indicated that the treaty may be opposed when it is brought before the United States senate for ratification, French Foreign Office officials believe that it will eventually be approved. This belief is based upon the assumption that the American senate would hardly dare to upset the plans of the state department after America has assumed world leadership in behalf of the anti-war pact.

The fifteen nations which, it is believed, will have become signatories to the pact before the league meeting are: United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium, Germany, Poland, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Irish Free State, Canada, South Africa, New Zealand and Australia.

Hero's Reward

Pretty Ann Bruce posed for his charming photograph a few minutes after the ceremony which united her to Lou Gordon, co-pilot and mechanic on the Amelia Earhart flight from Trepassy, N. F., to Southampton. Wilmer Stutz, chief pilot, "stood up" with his brother flier.

NEW YORK GREETING BOUT CALMLY; MANY SEATS TO BE EMPTY

Cool Weather And Dempsey, Presence May Boost Crowd

By DAVIS J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor
NEW YORK, July 26.—Just as they did the first and last time some struggling soul committed this monumental bromide, all roads will lead tonight to the Yankee Stadium where Gene Tunney and Tom Heeneey are to engage in earnest combat of fifteen rounds for the heavyweight championship of the world. The roads will lead, indeed, but the pedestrian, the equestrian and the cyclist have indicated that they will suit themselves about following. New York was calm, sane and a model of polite interest this morning as it awaited the coming of this event, which seems to have lost some of its strident significance.

Even the fact that Tunney, the champion, meant to take his life in his hands by flying to the scene from his training camp failed to arouse the populace to the point where it stormed the citadels for tickets of admission. There probably were 40,000 seats unsold this morning and indications were that if the crowd reached 50,000 and the total gate more than a million, Tex Rickard would be doing as well as any man could expect.

However, fair and cooler was the weather forecast for the evening and this was no more favorable to the success of the occasion than was the possibility that the irresistible Dempsey might yet be induced to enter the challenger's corner as a second. These alone remained as last minute stimulants of a sale that only in recent days has savored of championship volume and Rickard was prepared to make the most of them.

A millionaire now in white flannels and yachting cap, he once dealt Fark Bank along the Yukon and so he wore the gambler's mask of inscrutability this morning as he sat alone and faced the prospect of a financial impasse for the first time since, twenty years ago at Reno, he launched into the business of heavyweight

AGED OHIOAN FOUND SLAIN IN FLORIDA; ANTICIPATED DEATH

Daughter Of Victim And Husband Are Suspected.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., July 26.—George Simmons, 85, whose body was found mutilated in a clump of bushes near Lake City, Fla., this week, left his home here some months ago fully aware that he would be brought back dead, according to the reports rife here today.

Neighbors near the Simmons home here told today of the queer actions of the elder Simmons prior to his departure for Florida, to spend the summer with relatives there. Simmons, they said, had slept in the back yard under a stack of hay with $500 in his pocket and with a revolver at his pillow. The victim of the Florida murder was under the impression that someone would kill him and take his property valued at $30,000 the neighbors declared.

Rumors that the aged Simmons has been strangled from his children for some time, were related by the neighbors. His son, Edward Simmons, here, did not seem surprised when he heard of his father's death, the reports stated. "When I am killed," Simmons is alleged to have told people before leaving here, "they will know they have had a fight, but I expect to be brought home 'feet first.'" This was the man's last statement before going south, neighbors declared.

George Simmons was found with his skull crushed near Lake City, Florida Tuesday. Florida police, according to the reports are searching for E. L. Booth and his wife, of Steubenville, Ohio, whom they believe implicated in the murder. Mrs. Booth is the daughter of the dead man.

CANDIDATE IS ONLY PUBLICITY SEEKER SAYS HIGHWAY HEAD

Denies Charges That Boyd's Posters Were Torn Down

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—"He's just looking for publicity," Director Harry J. Kirk, of the state highway department said today when told that Clinton D. Boyd, of Middletown, and Republican candidate for attorney general, charged that the Democratic highway department is discriminating against him and other Republican candidates in the matter of tearing down campaign signs posted along the main highways, and on private property outside the highway limits.

"I've never heard of Mr. Boyd. He must be looking for notoriety because if he acted in good faith he would have notified the state highway department. I have received no such communication from the man as yet," Kirk declared.

Boyd charged that many of his campaign posters erected on private grounds immediately adjacent to the highways were torn down by persons said to have represented the state highway department. In some instances, Boyd said, they tore down Republican campaign signs and left those of Democratic candidates standing.

Boyd's charges resulted from the order of the state highway department recently in ordering that all advertisement and political signs within the limits of the state highways should be torn down.

Kirk said he wished Boyd would be more specific in his charges and mention some details so that if the charges were true which he doubts, he could give the matter his immediate attention.

RAINS LAST WEEK AIDED OHIO CROPS

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—Showers of last week rendered weather conditions "highly favorable" to plant growth and "mostly favorable" to field work, according to a bulletin issued here today by government weather bureau. Good progress was generally made by Ohio farmers except that cultivation, haying and the harvesting of grain were interrupted or handicapped over limited areas by heavy rains according to the bulletin, which pointed out that the week's showers were mostly moderate, though locally heavy.

The bulletin reported some local flooding of lowlands, especially along smaller streams, causing some damage to crops and considerable "lodging" in the grain fields due to heavy rains and winds, making harvesting difficult. Corn made excellent progress generally and is coming into tassel in many sections; oats are good and ripening fast with cutting already commenced in central sections, and all other crops including fruits, gardens and meadows have done well, the bulletin stated with the exception of a complaint of worms having entered into the tobacco crop.

UNMASKED MEN ROB CINCINNATI BANK

CINCINNATI, O., July 26.—Two bandits, possessed of a perverse streak of humor, were the object of a state-wide police search today.

Unmasked and unperturbed, the two men strolled casually into the Westwood Bank and Savings Co. here yesterday, hung a "CLOSED" sign on the door and robbed Walter A. Schneider, teller, of $22,000, making their getaway in a waiting automobile. Police are endeavoring to trace the men by their descriptions obtained from Schneider.

JACK PICKFORD TO FLY HIS OWN PLANE

NEW YORK, July 26.—Jack Pickford, moving picture actor, who arrived in New York a few days ago from California by plane, says he intends to pilot his own plane across the continent on his homeward trip in about six months. Pickford said he owned an airplane back in 1919 but had done no flying since that time. He claims to have a private pilot's license and to have had about four hours' solo flying.

The screen star said he came East primarily to get a job on the legitimate stage, and incidentally to buy a new plane. He said there was no truth in the report that he was to re-marry Marilyn Miller.

OWNER OF BOARDING HOUSE MURDERS MAN RESULT OF QUARREL

Hoes Garden While Awaiting Arrival Of Policemen

ZANESVILLE, O., July 26.—Clarence Barton, 69, proprietor of a local boarding house, was lodged in Muskingum County jail here today, awaiting arraignment before common pleas court Judge C. A. Ribble where it is expected a charge of first degree murder will be preferred against him as the outgrowth of the slaying of George Briggs, 45, late yesterday afternoon.

According to the version of the slaying given authorities by the wife of the slain man, Barton had been drinking during the day and had made insulting insinuations to her whereupon Mrs. Briggs drove to the Ohio Power Company plant at Philo where Barton was employed as construction foreman and returned with him to the Barton boarding house where both resided.

A quarrel ensued between the two men which was witnessed by the wives of both men, police say, with the result that Barton grabbed a gun and shot Briggs four times, inflicting fatal wounds, and then turned the gun on his own wife when she attempted to disarm him, firing one shot at her which went wild.

After the slaying, authorities stated, Barton went compositely about his household chores, police effecting his capture as he was hoeing his garden.

QUIZZED AGAIN

NEW YORK, July 26.—Maxwell Bodenheim, poet and novelist, who had been leading reporters a merry chase since his disappearance following the recent suicide of Miss Virginia Drew, his protegee, was released after being found by detectives in a Harlem dance hall early today. Although no charge has been made against him, he was taken to a police station "on general principles" and questioned.

Autoist Assassinated By Bandits In Another Auto Along Main Street Of Ohio Village; Companion Escapes

HAMILTON, O., July 26.—Vengeance for the death of Jack Parker, alleged gunman and liquor runner, whose bullet-riddled body was found on the roadside five miles south of Lebanon two months ago was ascribed by authorities today as the motive which actuated the slayers of Joseph Johnson, 38, also known as Morris K. Johnson, who died at Mercy Hospital here last night, with a bullet in his brain following a murderous attack on the main street of Pisgah, O., yesterday afternoon.

Johnson and a companion, said to be Ernest "Buck" Brady, 40, of Covington, Ky., was driving through Pisgah yesterday when a car bearing three unidentified men drew up alongside, with guns spitting venomously. Johnson slumped over the wheel, fatally wounded, while Brady saved his life by jumping from Johnson's car as the two machine collided. The slayers then turned their guns on the fleeing man, but Brady, crouching low, reached safety when he dashed into a roadside country store.

The assassins then worked their car clear of Johnson's stalled machine, and sped north, hurling defiance at the crumpled figure of Johnson with — "Now, you're not dealing with Jack Parker!"

Cues to the identity of the assailants were meagre, the license number of the death car being the only basis the detectives had to work on, and the license plates were believed to have been stolen when the investigation disclosed that they had been issued to Herbert McDermott, of St. Mary's, O. Johnson was engaged in rum-running activities, according to police, who voiced their belief that his murder was the outgrowth of the "bootleggers' war" that has raged in this vicinity for several months.

HOOVER EXPECTS TO ANNOUNCE FOREIGN POLICY IN SPEECHES

To Answer Charges Of Enemies About Internationalism

PALO ALTO, Calif., July 26.—Herbert Hoover will announce a foreign policy during the coming campaign so definitely pro-American as to stamp him a Rooseveltian American, with only the interests of his country at heart, it was learned today on the excellent authority.

Accused of being an internationalist, an anglophile and an American who knows his country only from car windows, Hoover will declare himself forcibly for a foreign policy, supporting and protecting American sovereignty in international affairs. The Republican nominee, it was said, will risk himself conclusively of the Wilsonian "tag" attached to him because of his association with the war time president as food administrator.

Hoover will announce a broad foreign policy in his speech of acceptance here August 11. During the campaign, he will take occasion to amplify his statements, so that his position will be clear to all the voters by election time.

HAIL YOUTH AS SWIMMING HERO

GENEVA, O., July 26.—Arnold Carlton, 13, was being hailed as a hero today, following his swimming exploit of Wednesday when he kept Mrs. Edna Carlton, his sister-in-law, afloat in Grand River near here, until a canoe came to their rescue.

Mrs. Carlton had ventured beyond her depth and several persons went to her aid but became exhausted and returned to shore, and by repeatedly diving, kept Mrs. Carlton afloat by pushing her body up after she became unconscious.

After a canoe was shoved to their aid, Arnold managed to "hook" the woman's arms over the craft and they were towed ashore.

TWO BIG BOMBS ROCK CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 26.—Two dynamite bombs rocked sections of Chicago today.

One of the bombs was placed in a photographic establishment and blew off the entire roof of the building, windows in adjoining buildings were shattered for blocks.

Another bomb was thrown in doorway of a barber shop. The interior of the building was wrecked.

Police said "blackhanders" or "labor bombers" threw the bombs.

PUBLISHERS TO MEET

LONDON, O., July 26.—A large representation of Ohio newspaper publishers is expected to attend the midsummer meeting of the Buckeye Press Association following the announcement here yesterday by R. B. Howard, London publisher, that an extensive program is being arranged and that Russell's Point, Indian Lake, has been selected as the meeting place.

TWO HUGE AERIAL LINERS ARE BEING BUILT; ONE SEATS 100

DAYTON, O., July 26.—Two mammoth aerial liners, a 100 passenger airplane and a forty passenger plane, are being built by Alfred W. Lawson at the airplane

REPUBLICAN STUMP CAMPAIGN WILL BE CONDUCTED BY FOUR

Curtis, Dawes, Hughes And Borah Will Lead Speakers.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Senator Charles Curtis, the Republican vice-presidential candidate; Vice-president Charles G. Dawes, Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes and Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, will constitute the "Big Four" of the Republican stump speaking campaign, it was learned here today.

While Herbert Hoover, bearer of the presidential standard, is making occasional contacts with 30,000,000 voters by radio and keeping his finger on the complex Republican campaign organization, the "Big Four" will be carrying the fight into every section of the country.

Because of the widely varied appeal which must be made to reach voters in the various sections, special tasks are to be assigned to the quarter when they take the stump about September 1.

Both Curtis and Dawes will range far and wide in the east and west. Hughes is to be assigned the task of sounding Republican doctrine in the hotly contested eastern states and Borah will invade the arid country in the west, coupling with his pleas for the dry law an explanation of the McNary-Haugen bill which is calculated to keep many Republican farmers in the party, it was explained by a campaign strategist here.

It is now apparently definitely settled that Hoover will attempt to do little or no speaking from train platforms and will follow the precedent of the Harding front-porch campaign. This decision is said to result not only from a belief that the nominee is not effective on the stump but an earnest conviction that a national campaign should be conducted along lines befitting the dignity of the office he seeks.

Borah let it be known before he hied himself to the more pleasant summer climate of Idaho that he was willing to accept a challenge on prohibition. With the issue being forced upon the Republicans and Hoover reported to be ready to take a definite stand for the continuation of the "experiment," the Idaho senator is to be given the opportunity to go before the voters.

HICKMAN APPEAL IS BEFORE HIGH COURT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 26.—The state supreme court today was reviewing an 87-page brief filed by William Edward Hickman's attorney. The petition for a rehearing of Hickman's case sets forth ten points of law on which error is claimed.

Hickman's counsel claim the supreme court's decision upholding his conviction extends the scope of legislative power beyond the boundaries created by state and federal constitution.

The court will render a decision on the petition within ten days. If the rehearing is not granted, Hickman's attorneys indicated they were prepared to take the case to the United States supreme court.

Hickman, convicted kidnapper-slayer of Marion Parker, Los Angeles school girl, is now occupying a cell in "death row" in San Quentin prison.

OHIO WHEAT BRINGS $1.31 3-4 A BUSHEL

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—New red wheat coming to elevators here today brought a price of $1.31 3/4 per bushel for the No. 2 grade. One cent more was added to the price for No. 1 and two cents deducted for No. 3.

The wheat in central Ohio is said to contain a large per cent of moisture and many farmers are losing on their grain crop as their wheat will not register as a No. 2 grade.

According to reports from nearby towns a drying charge of ten cents per bushel is being charged to make the wheat acceptable to the elevators.

Farmers claim much of their wheat is weedy and will not dry properly.

PLANE FORCED DOWN

ROCKFORD, Ill., July 26.—The monoplane "Greater Rockford," in which Bert Hassell and Parker Crumier took off early today for the first leg of their flight to Sweden, was forced down by bumpy air two miles north of here. The plane was slightly damaged in landing and it will take several days to repair it.

WEATHER FAVORABLE

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Gene Tunney - Tom Heeneey heavyweight championship fight at Yankee Stadium tonight will have an ideal setting, as far as the weather is concerned.

The day dawned fair and cool, and fair and slightly cooler weather was promised by the weather bureau for tonight.

GAZETTE READY TO STAGE TUNNEY-HEENEY RADIO PARTY

THE GAZETTE'S radio party banner was flung to the breeze on the front of the Gazette Bldg., Thursday morning.

That's this newspaper's invitation to all and sundry to find good listening spots in front of the building Thursday night to hear the radio broadcast of a new "battle of the century."

Down in New York City Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world, will defend his title against the new challenger, Tom Heeneey, Australian blacksmith.

A million dollars worth of good United States money will be spent to see the fight, but the next best thing is to HEAR the fight, and that costs you nothing. With one of the most powerful loudspeakers obtainable, THE GAZETTE will pick up the broadcast from Station WSAI, Cincinnati and the volume will be increased so that all within the horn's focus can hear the program easily.

The National Broadcasting Co., has arranged a nationwide hook-up through its Red Chain, including most of the big stations in the country, the nearest and best of which is WSAI. The program will be started at 8 p. m., Xenia time, including the pre-fight announcements and the preliminary bouts and it is expected that the main bout will get under way about 9 p. m.

Graham McNamee, king of America's radio announcers, will give the blow-by-blow ring-side story and Phillips Carlin, his able assistant, will give the "atmosphere" story. Carlin will tell about the crowds, the notables present, the condition of the fighters and other pre-fight gossip so eagerly absorbed by the real pugilist fan.

Previous fight broadcasts have shown that even the smallest detail is picked up by the ring-side microphone and THE GAZETTE feels sure that fans here will be able to hear the referee, the bell and probably the colorful comments of the ring-side seat holders. Everybody is invited and the party is free.

The 100 passenger ship will be the largest and safest plane in the world, Lawson said. It will be propelled by twelve Liberty engines having 4,500 horsepower combined. Five of those engines could die in flight and still the ship would soar on, declared Lawson.

"The smaller plane," Lawson continued, "will be equipped with five Liberties. Two of them could be cut out without danger he says. Both ships will include all the comforts of the home and will be real aerial liners. The big one is two-thirds finished now. It represents about four years effort and will be completed within twelve months. The other will be ready to go into the air in six months."

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

WOE AND SORROW—Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babblings? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine.—Prov. 23:29,30.

TWO MEXICAN TRAGEDIES

In the confusion and apprehension caused by the cruel murder of General Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, the people of that country will value doubly the goodwill of the United States. This is being manifested without stint and in all sincerity. Horror at the crime has been expressed, and along with it is going the hope that the stability of the Mexican government will not be shaken by this terrible blow to public confidence. Any assurances which our own government can give will be extended to Mexico in this, her hour of severe trial.

Sentiment between two countries is not unlike that between two persons. More may depend upon some kindly or generous act, some impulsive gesture, than upon a long course of perfectly correct conduct.

This is the reason why the American tributes of respect to Captain Carranza have taken on so deep a significance. The Mexican people have accepted them as a special mark of friendly feeling. The flight of the gallant Carranza to the United States was much more than a private venture. He came as the bearer of official greetings from Mexico. When he set out on his return he expected to report to the Mexicans the extent of the good will for them which he found in this country, both in private and in public. Now that message has been spoken only by his dead lips. But it was fitting that his sorrowful journey home to Mexico should be signalized by the military honors which were paid to him and by the general manifestations of regret and sympathy which were seen on all sides in this country as the funeral cortege moved from New York to the Mexican border.

Special emphasis has been given to all this by Obregon's assassination. Mexico will look more and more to this country as a friend in need, and no token of our desire to stand faithfully by her side should be lacking.

PLACING THE BLAME

Enforcement of laws is going to be weak as long as politics affects them much. The election or appointment of judges, prosecuting attorneys, and police forces ought to be entirely divorced from politics, but it is next to impossible to make such a separation.

When people are elected or appointed to such positions because of political affiliation or political service, rather than because they are the best men, then we have a condition out of which the lax enforcement of the laws is going to grow.

If the people find that crime is not put down, they accomplish very little by laying the blame on the courts and other officials. The trouble is with the people themselves, for not showing good judgment and putting the right people in office. Crime can be repressed whenever the people insist that it must be repressed at all costs.

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON

THE GO SIGN

A handful of men and two teams of horses began digging up a downtown lot.

"Is the new hotel going up now?" a bystander asked.

"Not now," was the answer, "but the man who leased the property to build a hotel has been ordered to DO SOMETHING, or under the terms of the lease he cannot hold it."

It is comfortable not to do anything or go anywhere. Sometimes events prove we were wise to know when not to do anything or go anywhere. Our judgment must tell us when those times are at hand. Usually to GO is the important part of a policy.

The fact that they believed the go-sign was always turned on is one of the secrets of the achievements of most of the great leaders of history.

IN THE EARTH'S HEART

A gigantic laboratory lies in the heart of the earth. It is such a huge storehouse of riches that our minds can hardly grasp the size and significance of it. In this almost measureless laboratory there are being manufactured the material resources upon which industrial civilization is built.

Oil, gas, iron, coal are being made in earth's laboratory by the wonder-processes of nature. There is not just a definite amount of assets in the earth. New material is constantly being made. The question is whether the increasing demands of men are using it up at such a rate that in spite of its increase it will run out. The countless generations to come will prove whether the laboratory processes are fast enough.

PREPARATION

Great men may seem to rise to heights at a sudden bound. They may seem to nail their flags high at a single stroke. That is not the way they are made. The world has not seen the patience, the unsuccessful trials, the failures and the new starts that have gone before. We hail fruition. Preparation is hidden.

Daniel Webster referred in a burst of enduring eloquence to the fact that Great Britain's dominions are so widely distributed over the earth that the sun never sets on her power. He found her "keeping drum beats with the hours."

A man congratulated Webster on his words and his eloquence. "How did you come to think of it," the friend asked.

"I have been thinking of it for years," said Webster.

TO BE FIRST

We are too much excited about being first. So often being first means little. There is a craze for setting records. Somebody wants to sit on a flag pole longer than anyone else. Somebody wants to dance continuously for a few days and nights in the hope of being first to accomplish an absurd objective. It is so much more important to determine, quite calmly, whether you are doing anything worth doing than it is merely to be out for a record.

The Diary of a New Yorker

by CLARK KINNAIRD

way, blinded by the reflection of bright lights reflected upon its tinsel, never is able to see why any one should consider its favors lightly. It doesn't understand why there should be such an irresistible fascination about the sombre Metropolitan Opera House for girls whose names twinkle in Broadway lights. No names sparkle in electric signs at the Metropolitan, and with few exceptions, leading singers in the opera get a smaller weekly wage than principals in Broadway shows. (Marion Talley, for instance, whose concert fee is a couple thousand, receives only a couple of hundreds dollars for a Metropolitan performance.)

Mary Lewis and Grace Moore of musical comedy fame turned their backs on Broadway to seek success at the Metropolitan, and attained their goal. Now Helen Gahagan, young actress who scored an outstanding success in "Seventh Heaven," and who could have choice roles for the asking, has given up her stage career to begin cultivation of her voice, with prima donna roles at the Metropolitan as her objective. Mary Ellis, star in both drama and musical comedy, has the same intentions.

Instances of stage girls lifted by exceptional talents to concert or operatic fame are common enough now. And there are frequent cases of girls who aspired to the dizzy heights of opera star and had to descend to the lesser regions of musical comedy to find fortune. But Nanette Guilford stands alone as one who achieved leading roles at the Metropolitan after failing dismally as a Broadway chorus girl. In one show she didn't get beyond rehearsals in another she lasted two weeks.

The men seem to be getting away from the husband-hunters this Leap Year. In New York City the total number of marriages so far this year is far behind the score for 1927.

On Broadway everything is forgotten quickly except a big spender. When Alexander Peacock, steelman, died, stories of how he tossed away from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 in having a good time were retold along the Joy Canyon. The extraordinary thing about his lavish expenditures for pleasure was that he was Scotch.

One morning his breakfast egg was bad, so he went out that day and bought a $60,000 farm to keep him supplied with fresh eggs. Another time he wanted to go to Los Angeles and couldn't get anything but an upper berth, so he chartered himself a special train. And once he got into a card game in which the sky was the limit and $500,000 changed hands.

Peacock's extravagant manner of traveling around with his friends is daily equalled to a considerable degree by millionaire New Yorkers who own private railway cars. Many of them, like W. F. Kenedy, Governor of Al Smith's close friend, never take a trip by rail, even of the shortest duration, except in a private car. The cost of going from point to point in such a car amounts to the price of 25 railroad tickets plus a 10 per cent surcharge.

Most of the persons who travel in this manner own the cars, but it is possible to rent palace Pullmans for as little as $90 a day, to which, of course, the transportation charge is added.

Private cars cost from $50,000 to $150,000 each, depending on the elegance of the fittings. They have real beds, baths, liquor-cellars, kitchens and dining rooms, butlers, paintings, sculptures, radios, motion picture machines, telephones (for use in terminals).

Since such cars have accommodations for only six or eight persons, it is necessary for the owner, when he is taking a long trip, to hire a second car for other guests, servants, baggage, etc.

The unsafest place in New York for pedestrians is not 42nd and Seventh avenues, "busiest corners in the world," but West street, along the Hudson river, where most of the try-outs for driver's licenses are held. Licenses are compulsory for all who drive in New York state. This, of course, excepts tourists.

Snow, rainstorms and such do not greatly affect plays on Broadway, but heat does. Managers who never worry about zero weather make reservations in Cain's scenery storage warehouse when the thermometer goes above 90.

Kellygrams

By FRED C. KELLY

I know a man who devoted several weeks to investigating the merits of a corporation stock in which he thought of investing his money. He got the best judgment of a banker, a professional analyst and of two or three other men in close touch with the business of the corporation.

But one day he remarked to a friend that he was thinking of buying some of that stock and the friend said:

"Oh, I don't think you should buy that."

Immediately the man changed his plan and bought without investigation something else that proved worthless.

Just why is it, I wonder, that men are so inclined to distrust their own judgment? Why does a man who knows something about his own business, let himself be swayed by the opinion of others who know nothing about it?

How to Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

Health Hints for Vacationists

If you have not yet heard the call of the sea, the mountain or the countryside, it is because you are deliberately willing your imagination away from the pleasure lands. It is more probable, however, that even now you are preparing your wardrobe for the annual vacation, when in a short two weeks' time you hope to restore health to your jaded body and pep to your mind.

It is through the very compelling, irresistible urge that we do regain health and strength and energy in the fleeting days of a short vacation. And not as a health measure—but as a beauty requisite—I am urging every one of you to plan some change, a whole two weeks of it, at least—so that October will find you refreshed and rejuvenated.

Health and beauty are so closely akin that it is difficult to talk about one without including the other. It is always in my mind at this season of the year, to warn the great army of vacationists about the dangers that await the unprepared in some of the most popular resorts.

There are water dangers—not only those that your physician must advise you about—but those that lie wholly within the province of a beauty specialist. I have frequently been called upon to treat severe cases of dryness, premature aging, and serious irritation which have resulted merely from the constant use of hard water.

There are hundreds of thickly populated regions, both in and out of the city, where only hard water is obtainable.

You cannot change the reservoir supply of these places, but you can provide yourself against the actions of hard alkaline water on your skin.

Either a manufactured water softener may be obtained, or you can tuck away a small box of borax in a corner of your handbag, and recognize yourself fully guarded against the ravages of bad water.

In addition to this, and if your vacation is lasting for longer than a week, I cannot too strongly urge your unbreakable traveling tin of an inexpensive pasteurized cream, which will have the same soothing effect upon outraged tissues as pure milk. In fact, I suggest your purchasing cream which has this ingredient as a base. Fresh milk, I may tell you here, has been recognized for generations as an infallible soothing agent. It never fails to cool and refresh the face tissues of the hands or face.

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS M. D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

VEGETABLES VS. ANIMAL PROTEIN

You know what fats are, and you know what starches and sugars are. But do you know what protein, the other great principle, is? I'll tell you.

Protein is the building and repair element in food, therefore it is absolutely necessary in all diets. Too much is believed to be an irritant, as the protein wastes have to be eliminated by the kidneys; but too little is also detrimental, for then the growth and repair processes will not go on. And remember that one vital tissue is always growing, even in the adult, and that is the blood corpuscles, and that always the constant body cells need a lot of repair.

Why We Should Have Some Animal Protein.

1. Most vegetable proteins lack some of the building stones, so are not nearly so efficient in building up the muscles, blood brain and other vital organs as the animal proteins. Furthermore, vegetable proteins are not so completely digested as the animal protein.

2. The mineral matter in a strictly vegetarian diet alone is insufficient to meet the body requirements.

3. Another disadvantage of trying to get all of the nourishment from the vegetable kingdom is that the digestive tract will have too much cellulose or fiber, and there will be too much distention and gas.

Fortunately, most so-called vegetarians are really not strictly vegetarians, for they take animal products—Eggs, milk, butter and cheese.

They are really lacto-ovo vegetarians.

Those who are real vegetarians must make a very conscious effort to secure all the necessary protein. Most nuts and the soy bean seem to have a higher grade of protein than the other vegetable products. In some animal experiments these have proved to be sufficient to maintain growth and repair.

If you do not eat any flesh foods at all, then you should have at least a quart of milk a day, for milk has a large quantity of very high-grade protein. And those who are interested, we have an article on the balanced diet. The column rules for obtaining material we offer in the column are to send (1) a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and (2) 10 cents in coin for the reducing and gaining pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for all other articles. This is to cover cost of printing and handling.

Guaranteed Cures.

Mrs. H. bought a lot of patent medicine with a guarantee that if it didn't cure, money would be refunded. Needless to say, it didn't cure her, but the concern would not refund her money.

As you have found, such concerns are quacks and fakeries. Mrs. H. if you and others, who are so trusting as to believe their blatant advertising, would take the trouble to write to the chief post office inspector at Washington, D. C., and tell him of your experiences, something might be done by the federal authorities to deter them from the mails. Unfortunately, most people who are swindled by mail order fakes never make a complaint, and therefore the officials have no data to proceed against them.

Miss C. — You asked for our article on the care of the hair and scalp, but you forgot to enclose the self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin. I'm afraid you were disappointed. Sorry. See directions above for obtaining any material we offer in the column.

MENU HINT

Round Steak and Noodles
Cucumber Salad
Fruit and Nuts
Coffee

Round steak and noodles is a dish that you may cook before leaving on an auto picnic, and take with you to serve piping hot, as it will stay hot for some time. The recipe for pepper and cheese sandwiches is included in today's recipes because it is now picnic time and the food combination is a good one. Of course the sandwiches are not tested if taken on a picnic.

Today's Recipes

Round Steak and Noodles — Three pounds round steak with suet, one and one-half quarts onions, one and one-half large tomatoes, one tablespoon chili powder, one package noodles, one and one-half pounds grated cheese, three green peppers, one bottle stuffed olives, salt and pepper. Cut meat in very small pieces and brown in suet, add onions chopped fine. Add tomatoes and cook slowly for 45 minutes. Then add chili, green peppers, olives, cheese and the noodles after they are cooked and drained. Cook all together slowly for one hour. This will keep hot for two or three hours if, when it is cooking one puts an earthen pot or bowl, such as is used for baking beans, in the oven until it is very hot. Put round steak and noodles in bowl when done fit a lid on top and wrap a tea towel securely around it.

Cucumber Salad—Two cucumbers, one package of gelatin, juice of three lemons, one-half cup pineapple juice, one pint boiling water, one-half cup cold water, one-half cup pineapple chopped fine, small teaspoon of salt. Soak gelatin in cold water, add fruit juices; then boiling water, add one cup of sugar, salt, chopped pineapple and two cucumbers chopped fine. Color with leaf green, put in small molds, cool and serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise. Do not put pineapple and cucumber in until mixture is cold.

Pepper and Cheese Sandwiches — Put one-half bell pepper through a meat chopper and mix with one package of cream cheese spread on square of bread and butter and cover with another square. Toast in a medium oven on both sides. Serve while hot.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, July 26. — Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Al Smith's running mate, isn't one of those super-methodical individuals you can set your watch by.

Any watch that was regulated according to Joe Robinson's schedule would be a very unreliable timepiece, because his schedule varies like everything.

Some nights he turns in much later than he does other nights. That invariably makes him later than usual getting up the next morning—and correspondingly late for breakfast. He catches his other meals whenever the opportunity offers—his luncheon sometime in the course of the afternoon—dinner whenever it's ready, and he is. Then that night, being tired, perhaps he'll hit the hay exceptionally early, which will make his ensuing day entirely different from the preceding one.

The Arkansas solon doesn't operate in conformity to any hard-and-fast schedule. He isn't a railroad train and he doesn't have to.

He's now in the midst of his third congressional session as minority leader of the United States senate, besides being the Democratic candidate for vice president. He can't stick to any set routine. Maybe some statesmen can, but not Joe Robinson. He works when he must—which includes a lot of overtime. He plays when he can—and he's as strenuous about it as he is about the other thing. Frequently a few hours remain to him, out of the 24, for eating and sleeping. He takes advantage of 'em when they happen—but not with any degree of dependability that you could set your watch by.

Rushed as he is Senator Robinson likes to live as close as possible to the scene of his official activities.

He and his family occupy a suite, during the session time, at 100 Maryland avenue, in what's known as the Methodist building, only a few steps from the Senate Office building, which, in turn, is but a few steps more from the senate entrance to the Capitol building.

Once up and about, the senator generally starts his breakfast in the Methodist building cafe, but as often as not he's interrupted in the middle of a telephone call from his office and finishes it, later in the forenoon, in the Senate Office building restaurant.

"He's generally at his desk," his secretary informs me, "by 9 a. m.," which might be considered as furnishing some sort of a clew as to the Arkansas's rising hour, were it not for the fact that the secretary has a qualifying clause to add—"when his work hasn't kept him up very late the night before." That rather takes the definiteness out of it.

Senator Robinson's a very fast worker. He has to be. His office always is crowded with visitors. His telephone's seldom silent and the volume of his correspondence is enormous. Nevertheless, he's always on hand for roll call promptly at noon, in the senate chamber. From then, until adjournment, he has to be uninterrupted on the firing line, or at least within call—snatching a nibble of food in the senate restaurant when there chances to be a lull, but mighty infrequently without several interruptions before he reaches the dessert course.

At 5 or 6, or whenever the session ends, sometimes he's due for a conference in the minority room, sometimes he gets back for an hour or two in his own office, and, once in awhile, on Saturday or in case of an accidentally early windup of the day's proceedings, he gets away for a golf game.

Joe's a golf enthusiast. He plays an average game and he's a strict stickler for the rules—observes 'em all himself and doesn't allow the opposition to take any liberties with 'em.

Evenings and Sundays he professes to devote to reading. Inasmuch as his evenings hardly ever begin, with dinner out of the way, until most people would consider them pretty well over, and by that time he ordinarily has callers on official business, it's hard to see how he gets through with much literature. Yet he does—evidently, for he's extraordinarily well informed.

Current events, politics, political economy, foreign affairs, agriculture—heavy stuff of all sorts. The magazines—seems to have read all of 'em. The newspapers—of course. Even up-to-date fiction—be touch with that, too.

Living and Loving

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

The best thing some young chaps seem to do is to make the girls believe that they (the girls) are to blame if the boy goes wrong. If a girl does not treat her boy friend "right," he has a perfect right to get drunk, or whatever else is his idea of a wild time. The girl, of course, is to blame. But girls are not supposed to go to the dogs when their boy friends fail to keep dates, etc. Oh, my, no. They must stay at home and break their little hearts. How little has the status of men and women advanced in the last hundred years, in spite of votes for women and all the rest of it.

"Dear Mr. Lee: I met a fellow some time ago. We went out a few times and he told me he thought a great deal of me. I, in return, thought a great deal of him, but didn't let him know it, because I've found out in the past that when a fellow knows you care he begins to lose interest. Am I right? He soon became somewhat discouraged. Then we quarreled. It was entirely my fault. Now he is running wild. He says I am to blame. He told me he still cared for me. He has no more faith in girls, only goes with them to pass the time away. I'm so blue and downhearted. Please tell me what to do.

BROWN EYES." It is not particularly sporting to let a friend think you don't care for him when you do. You can let a man know you like him and still not be mushy, you know. At the same time any boy or man who feels he must go to the dogs just because a girl quarrels with him is a poor, weak fool, and not worth bothering about. Why not interest yourself in someone else?

Peter's Adventure

FLYING SCISSORS

At this point in the story Bobolink cocked his feathered head on one side and chuckled.

"If we could have blushed we would have when we found ourselves discovered 'listening in' on a conversation not meant for our ears. We were so embarrassed, wife and I, that we must have flown away in another second. But before we could get our sense of direction, Nightjar chirped under his breath but not so low we couldn't hear him:

"Unless I am very much mistaken, they are the same two birds who have followed me all the way from the groves of spice. I think they must be traveling for their health or to see the sights, since they seem to be bound for they are lonely. Shall we ask them over?"

"Lyre-Tail must have said 'yes' for almost immediately Nightjar called:

"Come over and join us, little birds." And we accepted his invitation, just a little ashamed at being caught hanging around, he continued:

"Meet my cousin, Lyre-Tail, the best chap in the world, even if his tail is not much good to himself or any one else, and let me introduce myself. I am Mr. Nightjar."

"For a moment I forgot my manners."

"Dear me, how mixed one does get trying to keep track of who's who in these parts. Your cousin called you Scissors-Tail, and now you say your name is Nightjar. Which is it?"

"Both," answered the fellow. "You see, little birds, it is like this: Once upon a time a Two-Legs saw one of my ancestors moving his tail so—open, close, open, close—and he said it reminded him of a pair of scissors. My relative flew home and told about it, and ever since then Scissors-Tail have been nicknamed by the other feathered folks. But our real name is Nightjar, given to us perhaps because we fly by night, and, seeing all the harmful insects we can find, bottle them up where they can do no damage—in our bodies.

"I belong to the Goat-Suck family, so Goat-Sucker is another name of mine, although I don't like it at all. By the way, I am a distant cousin—and for the matter so is Lyre-Tail here—"

"THE HUMANS SAY I OPEN AND CLOSE MY TAIL LIKE A PAIR OF SHEARS"

Whip-Poor-Will and Chuck-Will-Widow. Both live in the North. That bird was just as delighted as could be when I told him that wife and I were old friends of Whip-Poor-Will's and he sent him all sorts of messages and made us promise to visit Chuck-Will's Widow on our way through Carolina."

FIREMEN DEFEATED BY CENTRAL OUTFIT IN SOFTBALL GAME

Early Innings Fatal; Car-roll-Binders Defeat Langs.

Bell of Central High School and Downey for the Firemen staged a pitching duel after the second inning of a National League softball game at Cox Field Wednesday evening but the damage had already been done.

Central High won the game 9 to 7 after the play in the early innings had indicated a free-hitting contest. The Firemen drew first blood in the opening stanza when five runs were rushed across the plate by L. Cope, I. Towles, Davis, Cain and Swartz. The lead, however, was of short duration, as the high school team came back with an eight-run carnival in the second and iced the contest.

Runs were scored by Gibney, Doak, Smittle, Buell, Tull, Bice, Monroe and Bell before the side was retired while the Firemen were praying for a fire alarm to ring. Nothing like that happened, however, and during remaining innings the fire fighters found themselves completely extinguished. Downey and Bell pitched well after the disastrous first two innings.

The Carroll-Binders defeated the Lang Chevrolet 24 to 2 Tuesday evening in an American League contest. The lineup Wednesday evening: Firemen—Haller; 2b, L. Cope, ss; Towles, 3b; Davis, 1b; Cain, lf; Briley, cf; Swartz, rf; Downey, p. C. Cope, c; High School—Bice 2b; Monroe rf; Bell, p; Gibney, lf; Doak, ss; Smittle, 3b; Buell, lf; Tull, c; Michaels, cf. Thursday night the Downtown Country Club meets the Phi Deltis and Friday evening's game will see the Harness Cigars engaging the St. Brigids team.

KONJOLA HAS BEEN TRIED AND PROVEN BY LOCAL PEOPLE

Xenia Citizen Praises It As A Stomach and Kidney Medicine

During the past six months this celebrated new Konjola medicine has accomplished amazing results throughout the entire city of Xenia and in surrounding communities, until now hundreds of sufferers af-licted with the most severe cases of health troubles are turning to this surprising new compound for relief. A case of renewed health through the use of Konjola was recently described to the Konjola Man, who is at the Gallaher Drug Store, Xenia, where large crowds are calling to find out for themselves about this new Konjola, by Mr. Newton Stollings, 320 North Miami St., this city.

"Konjola is certainly a wonderful medicine for the stomach," said Mr. Stollings. "In fact it is the only medicine I have found to give me lasting relief from the stomach trouble I had been suffering for the past few years. In my case it did everything claimed for it and I am only too glad to lend my name to such a remedy."

"I realized that my stomach was getting in a worse condition when the food I ate did not digest in the proper manner. I immediately took everything I could find for relief but nothing ever did me the least bit of good. I could only eat certain kinds of food and for weeks I was confined to a chair. There seemed to be a constant ache and pain in the pit of my stomach. After meals I was so bloated I felt as if I would burst. All day long I suffered severe headaches and I was subject to awful coughing spells. My kidneys were awfully disordered and at night when I went to bed, I had to rise four or five times. This broke up my sleep considerably and I was tired and worn out when I got up. These ailments kept getting worse instead of better and I was very discouraged."

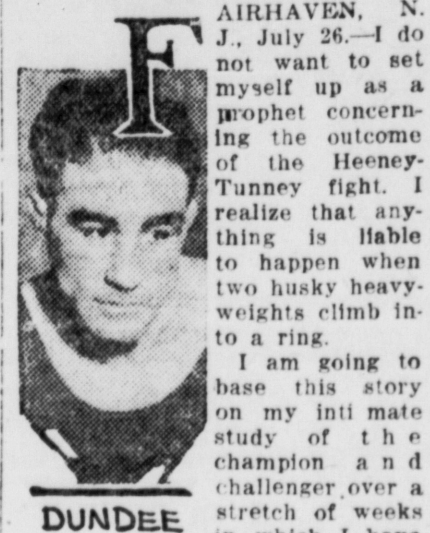

"Then a friend of mine told me about Konjola and how it was helping people who suffered the same as myself. I decided to give this medicine a trial because I realized that I must soon get relief or my condition would become very serious. My appearance showed such a marked improvement that my friends remarked about it. Now I have taken a full treatment of Konjola and I can eat anything that I want without suffering the least bit from those awful indigestion pains as everything agrees with me. Konjola has regulated my bowels and drove all the poisons from my system. The bloating spells and pains in my stomach never come over me and I actually feel like a different person. I am free of headaches and coughing spells for the first time in a long while. Konjola strengthened my kidneys and made all night sleep a thing of the past. Now I sleep right through the night and get up feeling like I never had those awful ailments."

The Konjola Man is at the Gallaher Drug Store, Xenia, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

DUNDEE PICKS TUNNEY WITH KAYO

Press and The Gazette

observed them closely during the most important periods of their training.

I pick Tunney to win. I pick him to win probably on a decision but I would not be surprised to see the fight end with a technical knockout. Neither would I be surprised to see Tunney score several knockdowns.

Gene has a jarring left this year that he is certain to land on the rushing, aggressive Heenev. He has learned how to use it more effectively than last year. He has a habit of cutting down and across the eyes with his fists. This cuts the eyebrows and in a short time renders his man helpless and blind. They stopped the Spalla fight for this reason. They had to lead Dempsey across the ring in Philadelphia to congratulate the new king for the same reason.

If Gene keeps peppering away at Heenev's eyes in this fashion he does not have to take any chances and he can keep up the barrage of hooks and jabs round after round for fifteen sessions. Some time or other he is bound to gain his end.

Heenev will toss the greater number of blows but I fear he will be smothered in the clinches. Gene's greatest danger as I see it is going "right hand crazy."

In his anxiety to prove himself a popular champion and a knockerout he will bring his chin into the danger zone. Whether he can do that often enough and still escape Heenev's possible target hit is a matter of judgment and speed.

Personally I rate Tunney faster and more alert. I have all the respect in the world for Heenev. He has plenty of stamina and courage and will be difficult to knock out. That is why I hesitate to pick the battle-end as a knockout.

Both men are in superb physical condition. Tunney is especially fit. He is criticized for missing with his right but then he never was absolutely perfect in landing with his right. No fighter is.

Neither Tunney or Heenev are gymnasium fighters. They plug along through a set training schedule and blossom out their true merit in the ring.

Heenev's aggressive plan of attack and Tunney's jabbing counter will make it a pretty fight to watch. Well—here's the best of luck to both of them.

THE END.

You don't know the half of this HUDSON

Performance that reaches thrilling new limits!
Smoothness that sets a new mark in motordom!
Gas efficiency that alters all previous standards!

Even you, who own and admire Hudson Super-Sixes of previous issue, can have no conception of the superlative finesse and quality expressed, both mechanically and in body beauty, of the great Hudsons of today.

The almost universal trend to the high-compression motor only serves to emphasize the exclusive method, advantages and results achieved by the Hudson Super-Six in this development.

While conventional types depend upon special, costlier fuels to minimize roughness, the Hudson design uses any gasoline, delivering the extra power with the elastic smoothness and torque of a steam engine.

Combined with the Super-Six principle this new invention makes Hudson the most powerful and economical car per pound weight in the world.

A singleride will explain why this has been the most enthusiastically accepted Hudson ever built.

DISCOVERY OF DEAD INFANT RESULTS IN CORONER'S PROBE

An undeveloped male infant, whose body was found along the roadside on the Yellow Springs and Cedarville Pike half a mile east of Grinnell's Mill, about noon Wednesday, was evidently killed by being tossed from an automobile, in the opinion of Coroner F. M. Chambliss who investigated. The only injury on the body was a bruise on the head, Dr. Chambliss said.

The body was found by a man cutting weeds, and Sheriff Ohmer Tate was called by M. R. Grinnell. The sheriff notified Coroner Chambliss who took charge of the body and later turned it over to an undertaker for burial.

Coroner Chambliss said that an investigation in an effort to determine the parentage of the infant would be made among doctors and hospitals.

INSANE PATIENT IS CAUGHT FOLLOWING ESCAPE FROM COURT

John Wakely, insane patient from Spring Valley, awaiting removal to the Dayton State Hospital, made a sudden dash for liberty from a window of probate court Wednesday afternoon.

Alighting in an enclosure about basement windows about twelve feet deep, Wakely, apparently unhurt, jumped up and scrambled about with the agility of a cat. He was running rapidly away when he was caught by two men who had been seated on the steps leading to the west entrance of the Court House, and who heard the cry of Probation Officer J. E. Watts for help as Wakely leaped.

They were joined by Officer Watts, and the three men engaged in a desperate struggle to remove Wakely to the county jail. As they reached Green St. they were joined by Sheriff Ohmer Tate, and the four men picked Wakely up and carried him to jail. He was removed to the hospital Wednesday night by Deputy Sheriff George Sugden. Wakely quieted after being locked up and gave no further trouble.

As he struggled to escape from his captors Wakely screamed loudly, attracting a crowd of onlookers. He had been walking about in the probate court room under the eye of an officer, following his commitment and had shown no disposition toward violence until his unexpected dash for liberty. Officer Watts made an ineffectual effort to hold him. Wakely's coat tail slipping through the officer's fingers as he grabbed for the fleeing man.

BROADCAST OF FIGHT PROGRAM STARTS AT 8 P.M.

Xenia radio fans who want to hear the Tunney-Heene prize-fight broadcast over their own receiving sets Thursday night, should tune in on Station WSAI, Cincinnati, about 8 o'clock.

The fight is being broadcast over a National Broadcasting Co. hookup, and including most all of the big stations, with WSAI as the closest, and therefore probably the most satisfactory for Xenia listeners.

The program, scheduled to start at 8 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, in Thursday morning announcements, will include the pre-fight announcements and the preliminary bouts, with the big event scheduled to get under way about 9 o'clock. Graham McNamee will handle the microphone for the blow-by-blow ring-side account of the Heene-Tunney bout and Phillips Carlin will speak between rounds and will make pre-fight announcements giving information on the fighters and the crowds.

Beautyrest Mattress

$39.50

You've never known comfort until you've slept on a Simmons Beautyrest. This famous mattress is the product of painstaking experiment by the world's largest makers. It has been on the market less than two years—and is today the largest selling mattress made.

In construction it is entirely different from any other mattress. Its center is made up of hundreds of springy wire coils. Each coil is permanently anchored in its individual pocket. These pockets are all sewn together making a live, springy center that somewhat resembles a honeycomb. On top and bottom, covering this center, are placed layer after layer of finest matting.

The coils make it possible for the Beautyrest to closely follow the outline of the body—supporting it, resting it.

Such luxurious buoyancy is almost unbelievable! And smart, new coverings and tailored lines give visible evidence of its durable quality.

KEARNS BETS HEAVY

NEW YORK, July 26.—One of the largest wagers made on tonight's fight involves Jack Kearns who has laid $30,000 against $15,000 that Tunney will not score a knockout. Dempsey's former pilot declares Gene can't put Tom to sleep but believes Tunney will win the decision.

BOEING AIRPLANE OFFICIAL VISITS AIRCRAFT CENTERS

Gardner W. Carr, Seattle, Wash., assistant to the president of the Boeing Airplane Co., is making a two-day inspection tour of Wright Field, Fairfield and the Dickerson Steel Co., Dayton, makers of airplane parts, in a tour of the country.

Mr. Carr's wife was before marriage, Miss Mabel M. Foley, this city. He is well known in aeronautical circles, having been assistant chief production engineer of the old McCook Field Dayton, from 1920 to 1924. He is now associated with the Boeing Airplane Co., the Boeing Transport Co., and the Pacific Airways Co.

On his tour, Mr. Carr is gathering data on the progress of airplane development and traveled from Seattle to Chicago by plane. He covered 2,600 miles in twenty hours, planes of the Boeing company landing daily in Chicago from the west and in San Francisco from the east. He has been visiting fields and plants over the east also.

The transcontinental planes are equipped for every convenience including splendid dining and sleeping quarters and radio entertainment. Trimotored ships with 1,275 horsepower are used in the 12 passenger air railway. The Rocky Mountain country is covered by daylight and the passengers leave Chicago at night to awaken over the Grand Canyon.

More than 25 percent of travelers from Chicago to San Francisco are carried via the air, according to Mr. Carr and 1,500 pounds of mail are taken with trip. Two passengers and two pilots are carried in each of the company's twenty-five planes on the route.

MUNICIPAL BAND TO HALT PROGRAM FOR FIGHT BROADCAST

Down town Xenia will offer an abundance of entertainment Thursday evening. The Municipal Band will give the usual Thursday evening concert in front of the Court House at 8 o'clock.

The band leaders have consented to plan their program so that it will not conflict with the Heene-Tunney fight. If the fight comes on before the end of the concert, the band will announce an intermission and finish the program after the fight is over. This arrangement will allow the crowds that assemble for the fight to have the entertainment of the local band concert while they wait for the big event.

The band announces the following program for Thursday evening.

March, Boy Scouts — Henneberg
March, Adalid — R. B. Hall
Overture, Panorama — Barnhouse
March, Lucky Slim — Mader
Waltz, Bliss Eternal — Bennett
March, 4th Battalion — Wehrmann

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause. But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose."

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

ELABORATE PROGRAM FOR HOME-COMING

ASSISTANT AGRICULTURE HEAD MAY SPEAK; WILL HONOR FESS

Historical Exhibit, Parades, Band Concerts, Barbecue, Dancing, Aerial Circus, Few Of Entertainment Arrangements.

Assistant U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Renick W. Dunlap has been invited to deliver an address on Greene County day, third day of the Home-Coming, according to Dr. A. C. Messenger, chairman of the program committee. Secretary Dunlap's acceptance has not yet been received.

His address will feature the afternoon program of the day when a general reception will take place in honor of United States Senator S. D. Fess of Yellow Springs. Several thousand invitations are to be sent out for this affair, to people all over the state, including many prominent persons and it is expected to be an outstanding feature of the home-coming celebration.

Meeting in the new auditorium in Shawnee Park where it is expected to hold most of the indoor features of the celebration. Dr. John Acheson, president of McAllester College, St. Paul, Minn., a former Xenian, will preside at this meeting.

Monday will be observed as lodge and school day. Band concerts and meetings of old friends will feature the morning. Lodges and schools are expected to participate in a parade at 7 p. m. A band from the Dayton Council of the Daughters of America, the Cadet Band from the O. S. and S. O. Home, Osborn and Jamestown school bands have signified their intention of entering the parade. In the afternoon Daughters of America will present a flag to Xenia Boy Scouts in a program at Shawnee Park, when an address will be delivered by Mrs. A. E. Faulkner of this city, national councillor of the D. of A. There will also be a ball game in the afternoon.

to the Court House. The presentation will come at the close of the parade in the afternoon. Airplanes will also participate in the patriotic day program.

Band concerts will take place each morning and each night of the Home-Coming except Sunday there will be a dance in the park auditorium in charge of members of Phi Delta Kappa fraternity. These dances are to be under the supervision of City Auditor Zell, and the proceeds will go to the Home-Coming committee. The Women's Civic League will have charge of all refreshments to be sold in the park and this money will also go to the Home-Coming committee to be devoted to the auditorium fund.

Catharine Greene Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will dedicate trees in Shawnee Park which have been planted by that organization in memory of Greene County Revolutionary soldiers.

What is expected to be an entertaining feature of the Home-Coming will be the historical exhibit in charge of Dr. W. A. Galloway, which will be given in the Masonic Temple. Elaborate plans for this exhibition have been made by Dr. Galloway. Attendees will be dressed in old time garb, and the surroundings will be made to take on an old time atmosphere in every way.

MRS. J. B. THOMAS REMOVED BY DEATH

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Thomas, 67 wife of J. B. Thomas, died at her home on the Maple Corner Road at 9:30 Wednesday night. Her health had been failing for the last three years, and since Christmas her condition had been more serious.

Mrs. Thomas was born in New York July 16, 1860. She had lived in Greene County ever since her marriage which took place December 10, 1879. Surviving are her husband and two sons, Frank who has made his home with his parents, and Marshall of Xenia, and a sister, Mrs. S. A. Thomas of Shenandoah, Iowa. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Old Town.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home Saturday at 1:30. Interment in Woodland Cemetery.

ANNOUNCING CHICAGO'S MOST SENSATIONAL HOTEL RATE

DOUBLE Room with Bath $4.00 Per Day

New HOTEL SHERMAN CHICAGO

now offers you a new low rate of $4.00 per day for a double room with bath—modern, light, airy, comfortable. This new rate, with the single-room rates of $2.50 to $5.00 for rooms with bath, makes Hotel Sherman the most reasonably priced hotel in Chicago.

EXCELLENT FOOD AT MODERATE PRICES

You have your choice of club breakfasts at 45c, 65c and 75c. There is a 60c table d'hôte luncheon in the "Old Town Room," and an "All-You-Can-Eat-for-$1" lunch in the "College Inn." The $1.25 table d'hôte dinner in the "Old Town Room" is a prime favorite, and the "Celtic Grill" and "Coffee Shop" are popular gathering places for prominent people.

SMART AND SNAPPY ENTERTAINMENT
The "College Inn" is Chicago's most famous night restaurant, and the "Bal Tabarin," with its new decorations by Tony Sarg, is Chicago's smartest Saturday night club. There is Maurice Sherman's orchestra for dancing, and the new "College Inn All-Girl Revue" is a sensation.

YOUR TIME IS MONEY
and Hotel Sherman is in the heart of the business, financial and professional centers of Chicago—it is only a step from the principal banks, theaters, and a two-minute walk from the shopping district.

WHAT DID ANDREW JACKSON DO FOR CHEVROLET?

Andrew Jackson is the father of Chevrolet used car advertising. Jackson was a very poor speller and he would spell all correct in this manner (Oil Korrekt) hence the term O. K. for short. The little red tag on one of our used cars means that it has been thoroughly reconditioned and is (Oil Korrekt) or O. K. You never go wrong on an O. K. tag.

READ THIS FIRST:

Janet Mary James, eighteen, sweet and good and clever, has an ambition to go on the stage. Helped by her Uncle Jules in France, Janet goes to New York, where the very first evening she is hit by a taxi but is not seriously injured. At the hospital she meets Dr. Ballard Riley, a big, handsome fellow, who the nurses say is a woman hater. Dr. Riley jokes with Janet when he finds she has just arrived from Big Sandy, Kentucky, to find fame and fortune in the big city. He lectures her, and gives her a lot of advice. Janet is overjoyed when Ballard Riley asks her for a date. The woman hater dating her up! At the Follies Janet meets Flavia Marlowe, about fifty years old, smartly gowned, modern and rich. Flavia is a patroness of the arts in Greenwich Village. She is just beginning to wrinkle and trying to hide it.

Janet attends a party in Flavia's studio, and meets "Putty" Bigelow and Sir Henry Martindale, friends of Flavia's.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER VIII

He looked at the long, slender hands of Janet, lying in her lap, and at the concert piano in the corner.

"I'd stake a whisky and soda that you play the piano, Janet."

"Oh, no, dear! But wait until Lotus Flower brings the cocktails. I don't know what is keeping her. She should have brought them long ere this."

Lotus entered at that minute, with the tray. There were four little glasses and a shaker. Janet was a bit confused. What should she do? She had never had a cocktail. Not that she didn't intend trying them. But now that the time was at hand, she was almost afraid to try.

Flavia concealed a smile when Janet took a glass from her hands. It would be amusing to see if she could drink it without coughing. There was no doubt it was the child's first drink. "Putty" watched from the corner of his eye. He thought she looked too good to be real! It was his private opinion that she could hold her liquor like a man. That this might be her first cocktail was a thought that naturally would not enter his busy head.

Sir Henry watched, too—and a sigh escaped his lips as Janet raised the glass and drank the first swallow. She didn't bat an eyelash. Sir Henry was a bit disappointed. He sort of hoped she would refuse. It would be refreshing. No one ever did.

Flavia maliciously turned to Janet and inquired, sweetly: "We have any kind, dear. What kind of a cocktail do you prefer? If this isn't your favorite brand, just say so."

"Oh, these are lovely," Janet sipped daintily.

"What kind do you like best, though?" Flavia prodded, and the men, wise, smiled to themselves. Janet thought quickly—what were some of the names? She raised her eyes to the ceiling as though studying.

"Oh, I don't know, I think I like a Bronx best."

Flavia turned to the tray and picked up the shaker. She wanted to laugh.

"All right, since that is so, have another Bronx."

Janet wondered if she were being kidded and a little flush of resentment covered her face.

With a little laughing, "Not just this minute," Janet crossed to the piano. She felt just a little giddy, but thought it must be her imagination.

"What would you like?" She turned and made a little curtsy to her audience. If they were fooling her she would surprise them. Janet was in her own atmosphere at the piano. Sir Henry, with a concealed grin, asked for something very operatic to "offset the ribald jazz with which his soul was tingling."

Janet sat down and ran her white hands over the keys. Flavia Marlowe sat up straight and looked at her in amazement. She was playing the first strains of "The Jewel Song" from Faust.

Suddenly Janet threw back her head and began singing. Flavia rose and started toward the piano. She stopped in the middle of the floor, her hand to her breast. Sir Henry sat on the edge of his chair. "Putty" Bigelow leaned back, his jaw dropping with surprise.

Janet sang as she had never sang before. It was the voice of Marcella—a bird trilling in the dewy morning. It rose and fell with the ease of a prima donna's golden notes.

When the last word had died away, Janet whirled on the bench. The smile on her face changed to one of surprise. Flavia stood in the middle of the floor, her eyes wet with tears that flowed down her cheeks, uncontrolled.

"My God, child. Where did you learn to sing like that?"

Janet got up slowly and walked to her side, incredulously. She looked at the men and they were still sitting as they had been. There was a strange look on their faces. She laughed nervously.

"Why, I—my mother was a singer. I had a voice at school. I guess it comes natural."

Flavia took the sweet face in her hands.

"Well, dear child, you have a gift. God given. You sing like an angel. You have a brilliant future—and I am going to help you."

Sir Henry stood up and took Janet's hand.

"Jove, girl you make an old Englishman want to cry. Flavia is right, and she can help you. You must take her advice, and sort of let her mother you, don't you know?"

Ordinarily, Flavia would have resented heatedly, the mothering, the insinuation of the difference in her age and Janet's. But she was too interested and too surprised to notice. Putty Bigelow mopped his brow and reached for a cocktail.

"That calls for another drink. You could almost wear me away from jazz angel, with pipes like that."

Flavia crossed to the sofa with Janet, her arm about her shoulders, and handed her another cocktail. Her eyes sent a little questioning look which Janet understood. But, fearing to seem young and inexperienced, Janet tipped the glass and drank.

That was delicious! Janet felt suddenly gay, and her feeling of strain was all gone. These were lovely people. It was a beautiful world. She ran over and hugged Sir Henry under the chin.

The Theater

By C. K.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Personal and confidential: Blanche Sweet has given up plans to make Michael Arlen's best seller, "The Green Hat," and Greta Garbo is going to star in it under the title, "A Woman of Affairs." M-G-M is giving another chance to contrite James Murray, whom it suspended for making whoopee after he starred in "The Crowd."

Robert Flaherty, whose "Nanook of the North" and "Moana of the South Seas" are classed in the movies as "20 greatest," is now doing a red Indian story, with a cast composed exclusively of original Americans.

Doris Kenyon will no longer play opposite husband Milton Sills, because she is now working for Paramount, with Clive Brook as co-equip all present theaters, it is estimated.

Movietone and Vitaphone have the industry topography. There is fear in many Hollywood hearts, but hope in most. An amateur movietone camera is expected on the market soon.

Incidentally, D. W. Griffith ought to get some credit as a pioneer in sound picture effects. He introduced them ten years ago, in "Dream Street." Capital couldn't be obtained to develop the idea then; Griffith was ahead of his time.

Twenty Years '08- Ago -'28

Two sensations were sprung at the matinee races yesterday afternoon. The half-mile record was made by Brownie Herr, owned by George Grottenick and Harry Mc stepped a mile in 2:14. Brownie Herr made 1:05, the old record being 1:05 1/4 by Legal Jr.

Mrs. H. E. Schmidt and Mrs. Leopold Steinfelds have returned after two weeks at Petoskey, Mich.

Mr. Ed Hunt, the "motorcycle man," has purchased a new Excelsior motorcycle for his own use.

Mr. Cliff Sutton has equipped his automobile with a set of Dayton Airless Tires. This tire is a new product.

Betty Bronson, who played the title role in the screenization of "Peter Pan," has now grown up to the extent that she has been made leading woman for Al Jolson in his next talkie.

star. Barry Norton's real name is Alfred de Biraben, and he was born in South America. Greta Garbo claims to be only 22. Marguerite de la Motta, Doug Fairbanks' leading woman in "The Three Musketeers," is opposite him again in "The Man in the Iron Mask."

Lyda de Putti is having her nose reshaped surgically. Gloria Swanson's husband, who'd be a marquis if Poland (not France) was a monarchy, will play in pictures under the name of Henry Falaise. Most every one calls him "Hank."

"Hell's Angels," air film in which Ben Lyon and Greta Nissen star, is the first full length feature to utilize both color and sound effects. Sound pictures are spreading like wildfire, with thousands of theaters clamoring for projection equipment. It'll take two years to championship promotion. All of his previous extravaganzas made thousands upon thousands in profits for his backers; this time, he will make little or nothing.

NEW YORK GREETING BOUT CALMLY; MANY SEATS TO BE EMPTY

They have dubbed Heeneey, the New Zealand challenger, the "Man from down under." But they selected the wrong party. The man from down under today is Tex Rickard as he contemplated his cash on hand and compares it with the fact that he has contracted to pay Tunney $525,000, Heeneey $100,000 and the government some thirty percent of his receipts, in addition to underwriting the rental of the field and the usual expenses contiguous with the staging of an event of this kind.

One of Rickard's last, despairing gestures will be to throw 7,000 general admissions on the market at four o'clock this afternoon at $3 each, a cut-rate scheme he would have scored in those fulsome days at Philadelphia and Chicago when he was raking in his millions from the avid throngs who gathered for the Dempsey-Tunney meetings. It was Dempsey's hold on the public that made these gates possible and so it must be conceded that it is Dempsey's absence from the present equation that leaves Rickard struggling for an even break at the pay off.

With this impelling figure as a spectator, or at the most, a corner handler, there was nothing about this fight with which to intrigue the popular fancy. There has been a studied attempt to picture Tunney as a man in whom the "killer" has been born overnight but, to the sane students of form, the lack of a single knockdown over the entire fifteen rounds would come as no great surprise. Tunney has given some indication in training that he is disposed to sacrifice some speed in a desire to punch it out with the challenger. This undoubtedly would produce a better fight than many believe they are due to see. But it isn't likely to lead to a knockout. Both men are tough; neither can punch in the accepted sense of the term. A knockout, with that combination, is hardly probable.

Tunney remained the favorite in the rather sporadic betting today and well he might. If there is any form on this fight, Tunney figures to have it with his superior speed, his cleaner punching, ring sense, greater experience and the knowledge that a defeat would make him appear almost ludicrous. They are said to have made him a favorite at odds as high as 2-1 to 1, which, in the light of subsequent developments, may prove to be quite out of line.

The flight from Speculator is an excellent publicity move, though not so intended. It also is the worst thing Tunney could do to his physical well being. A nervous, sensitive man at best, he will be highly keyed up and emotional on the morning of the fight. So to settle his nerves and compose his stomach, he will spend the early part of the day taking an overland flight of more than 250 miles, as the bird flies. Some of it will be off the line of waterways, although an amphibian plane is to be used.

Heeneey, meantime, will be steaming up to the official weighing in at two o'clock from Long Branch on a private yacht. Yes, those modern fighters do big things in a big way. But they aren't going to make money for Tex Rickard this time even if they race each other into town on velocipedes.

CUMMINS RETURNS AFTER JAIL ESCAPE

"Here I am sheriff. Lock me up," announced William Cummins, Xenia as he presented himself to Sheriff Ohmer Tate at the county jail Tuesday evening.

Cummins, who was serving a sentence for assaulting his wife, walked away from the jail a week ago when he was trusted to go in to the back yard on an errand. Cummins failed to say where he had been during his week's vacation. He was sentenced by Mayor Prugh to sixty days in jail and to pay a fine of $50 and costs for assaulting his wife, and had served about two weeks.
